IN useful craft successfully refined,
Artful in speech, in person, and in mind,
And now appear, thy treasures to protect
Conceal thy person, thy designs direct,
And tell what more thou must from Fate expect.
Yield to the force of unresisting Fate
And bear unmoved the wrongs of base mankind,
The last and hardest, conquest of the mind.

MISS ELEANOR LOUISE SKINNER

Dedication

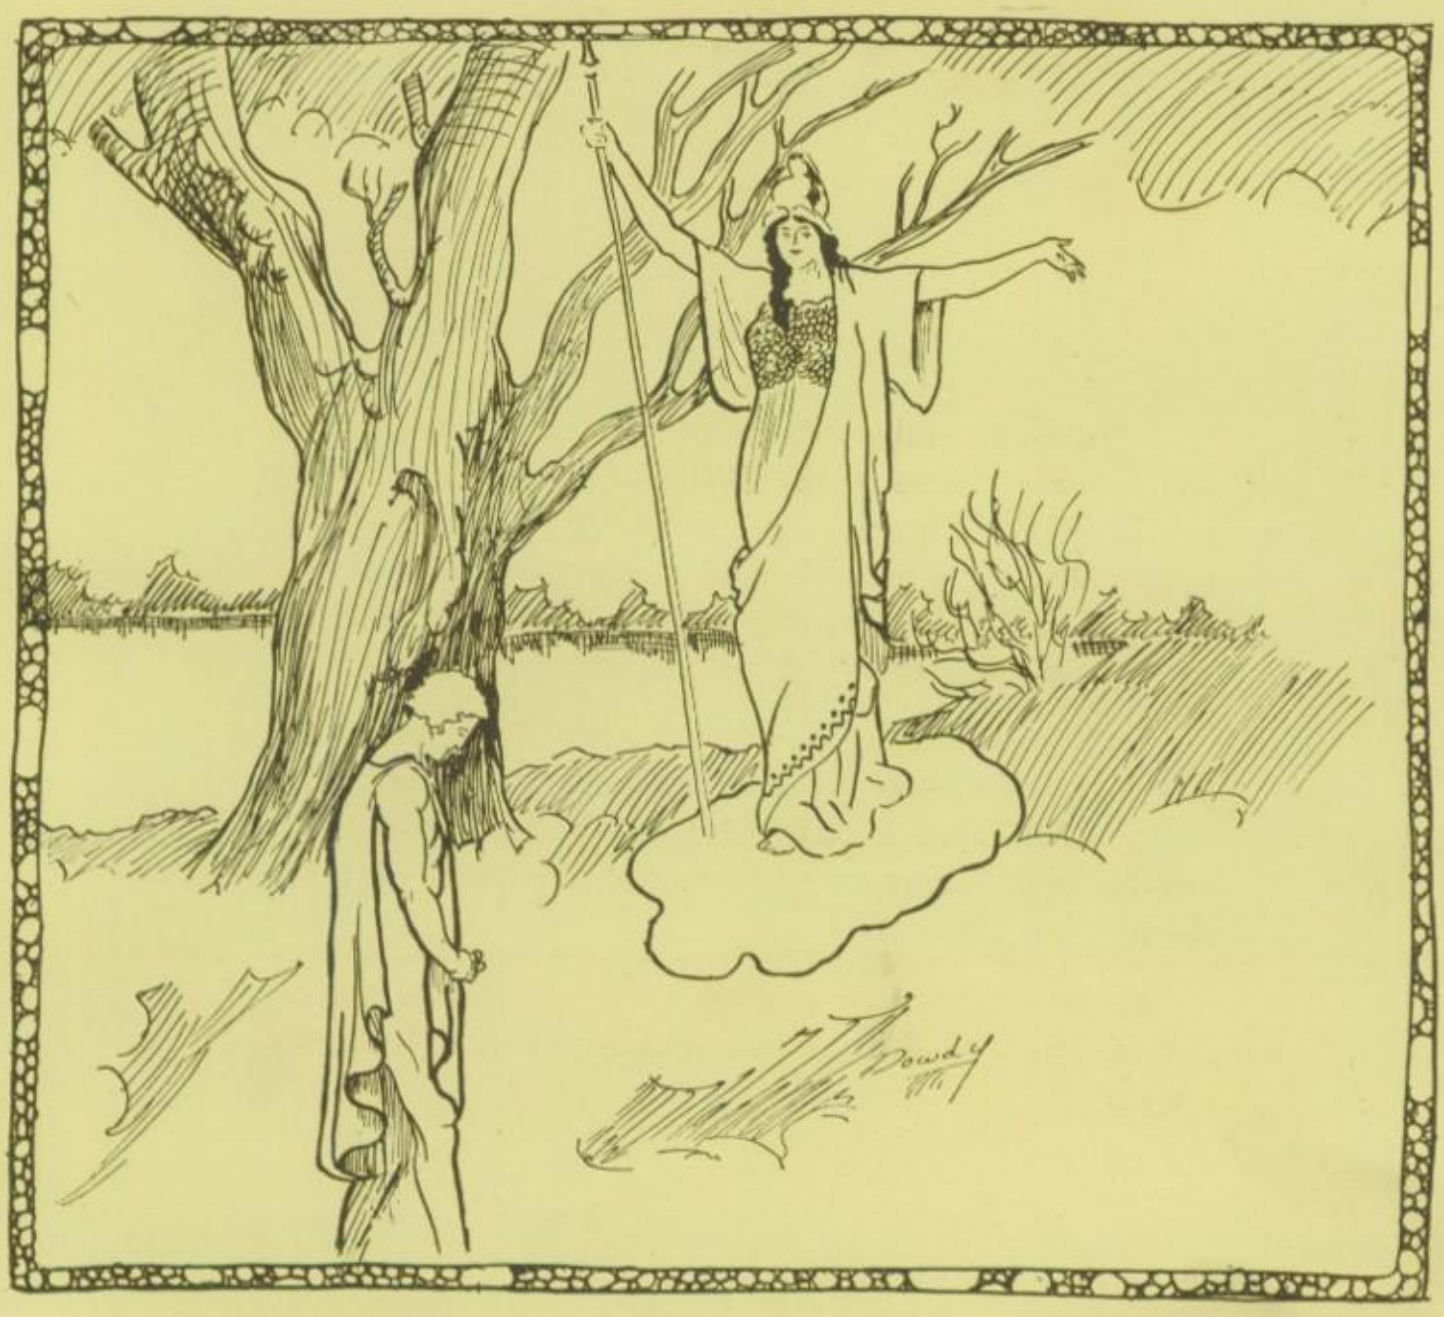
Miss Eleanor Louise Skinner is known and beloved by many not only as the vice-principal but as friend and helper, and her ever ready and encouraging advice has been an inspiration to the school as a whole and to the Senior class in particular. Though directly connected with the girls only, Miss Skinner has been to each graduating student of North High School a real pal, and we the class of '26 do with love and joy dedicate to her this year-book of our lives together.

Foreword

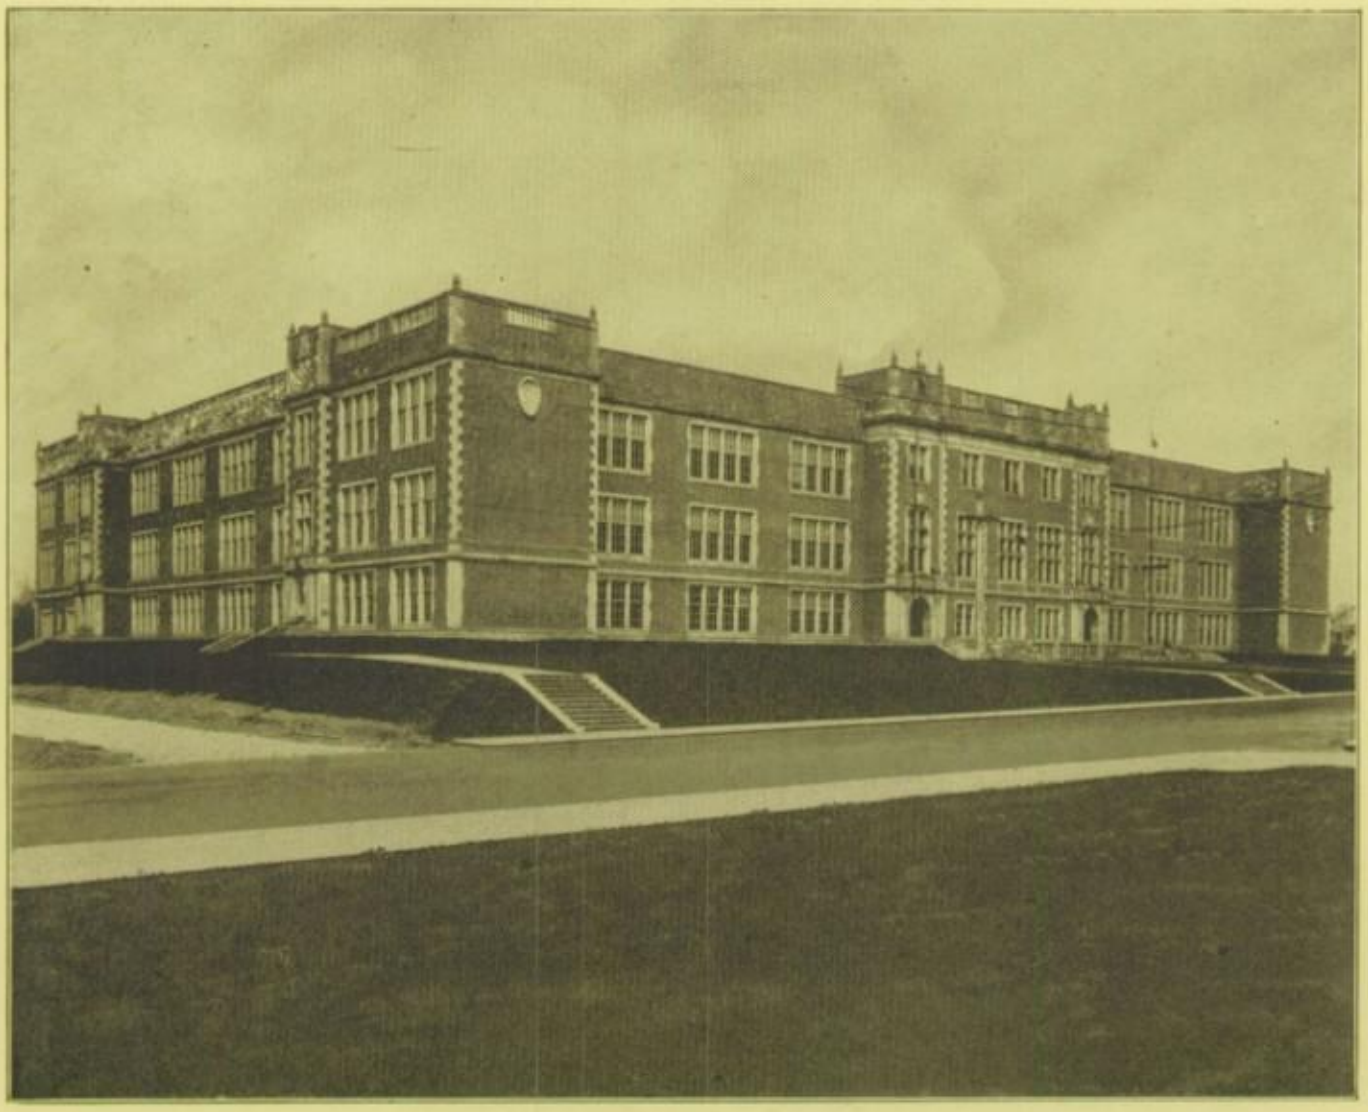
"Thence we sailed onward through the weeks, through the seas of troubles or the waters of excitement. Many people spake unto us giving words of wisdom." Thus spake Odysseus of old whose adventures under the guidance of Athena, goddess of wisdom, are pictured here and there in this record of our own adventures.

So the crew aboard the good ship North under the guidance of the same goddess struggled on through many days. And when at last land was sighted, when they felt the ground once more, many and wonderful were the stories they told.

So here's the tale as they did tell it, full of joy and full of sorrow. May it show to you quite clearly all the voyage's adventures.

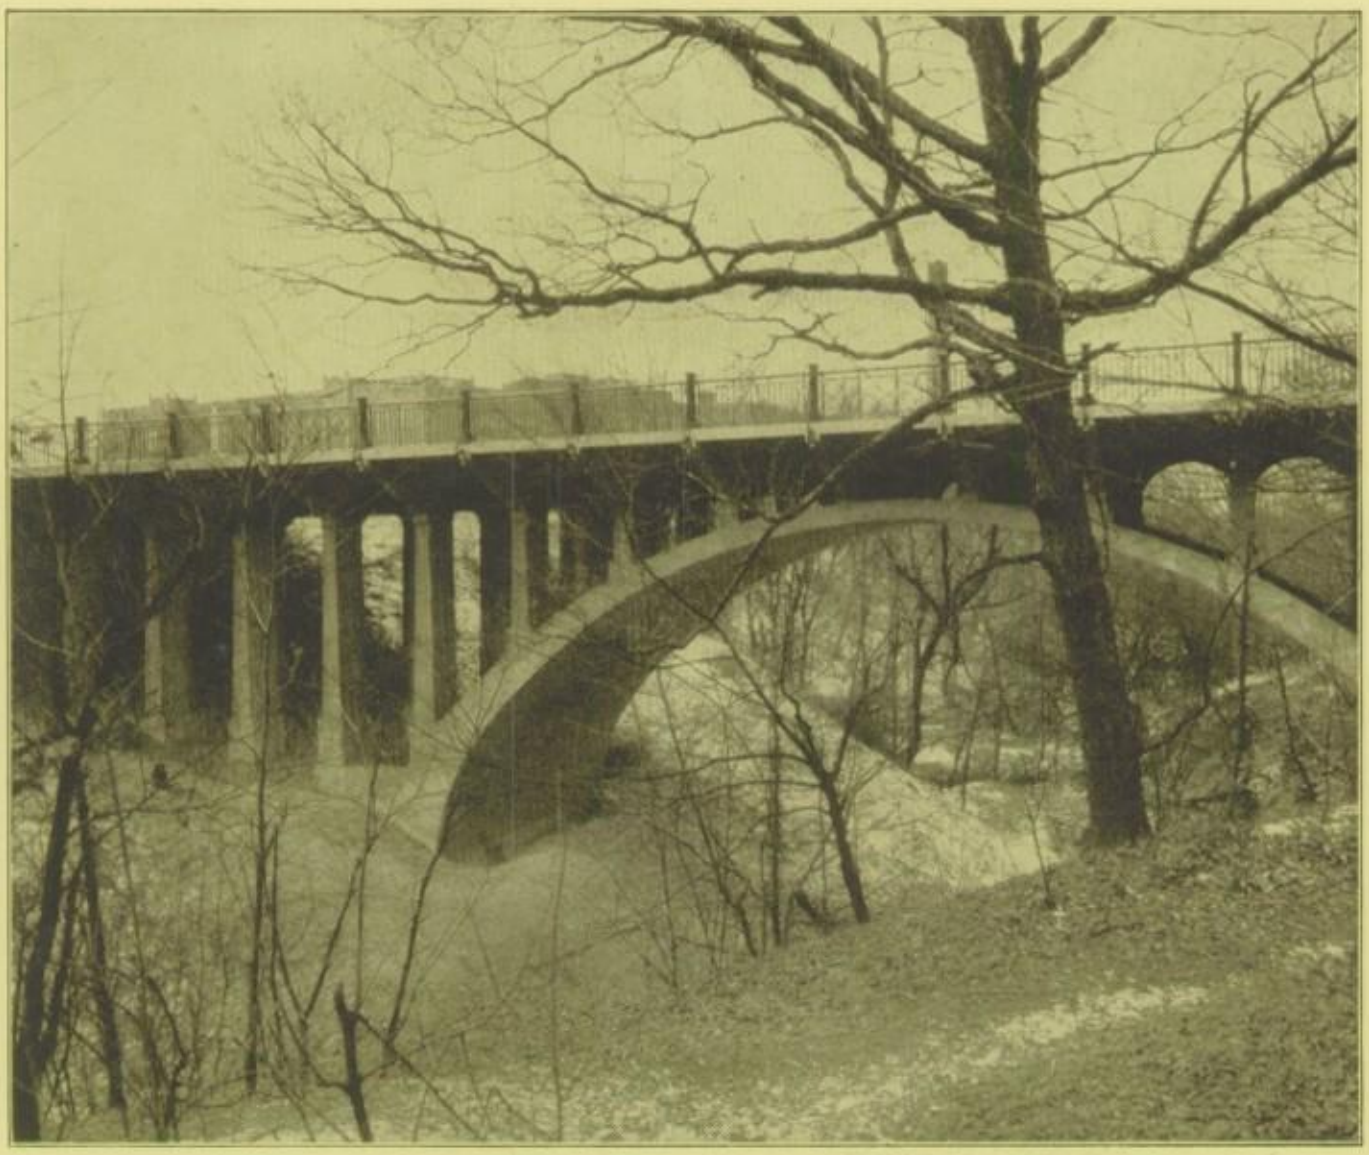


Athena Offers Guidance



And strange enchantments from the past,
  And memories of the friends of old,
And strong Traditions, binding fast
  The flying terms with bands of Gold—
All these hath North.

Beauty itself
  Doth of itself persuade
The eyes of man,
  Without an orator.



There's beauty all around our paths
If but our watchful eyes
Can trace it midst familiar things
And through their lowly guise.

A silvery brook comes stealing
From the shadows of its trees
Where slender herbs of the forest stoop
Before the entering breeze.

THE CLASS POEM

YOUTH

The slim, exultant poplar tree—
Swaying, dancing—
The froth that foams upon the sea—
Playing, prancing—
The rolling mesas, wide and free;
These are the lure of youth to me.

The fluting blackbirds' cheery call—
Laughing, taunting—
A brightly bordered Spanish shawl—
Baffling, flaunting—
The tang of woods in early fall;
They hold the soul of youth in thrall.

"The chant of youth is far too bold—
Blaring, tingling—
Its shining brass has little gold—
Glaring, jingling—
Its sympathies are harshly cold;"
This is the challenge of the old.

Yet let us try to chain the skies—
Madly, doubting—
And catch the rainbow in our eyes—
Gladly, shouting.
If youth were dressed in faultless guise,
What would there be to criticize?

THE CLASS HISTORY

THE history of the class of 1926 was revealed to the world in a most unusual fashion. By special arrangements with Dr. Einstein, the class was transported to a period of six months after Commencement, to a corner of the gab room of a famous woman's college, which served as a meeting place, at the close of a college day for five of North's sedate old Grads, Margaret Nesbitt, Ella Ackerman, Martha Collicott, Lucy Hanna, and Evelyn Bourgardes.

The glimpse into the future showed the girls as very weary of the grind of college, and sighing for the delights of other days. To their startled surprise, their complaints awakened the pity of the pictured story-teller in the framed "Readings from Homer", Burvil Glenn, who came to life to tell them a tale of the greatest and most heroic class of modern times:

The following is the story in part:

Listen, my children, and you shall hear,
Of a class of a famous yester-year.
Of a class of 10B's, small and shy
Who came to dwell at old North High.
Oft regarded with looks of great pity
Like country jakes in a big city.
Many to afterwards hold important chairs
Then stood around with blank, green stares.

Then there came forth many heroes brave
To win the first laurels of that day.
In base ball, basketball and gymnastics
Hinchman and Bass showed good tactics.
So peppy was that class in '23
The old school was as crowded as could be.
Father Columbus felt their plight
Built them a school and built it right.

The folks that sailed across the sea
Forded the murky Arcadian lea,
To a new building, spacious and tall
Although it hadn't been finished at all.
The plaster from the walls was missing
And quite a few things needed fixing.

In a brand new school, with everything new
They started to conquer a title or two.
And the very first thing that they began
Was the Student Council, so very grand,
Thirteen in Council, three on Executive Board
Were the heights to which these Juniors soared.

Foot ball first claims my attention
For of those fine athletes I must mention.
There were Ogier, Tracy and Ferguson
To see that all the games were won.

Then in the fall of '25
Greater than they there were none alive
No sorrow with their joy could mix
They were the seniors of '26

In Student Council its second year
Bob Newlon took the helm to steer.
Among his helpers, staunch and true,
Were Dennis, Linn and Mahaffey, too.

Now a whistle, a boom, a bang and a rah
For the foot ball team that fought that fall.
True they were not champs, but fair and square
And Ed Alten, the captain, was right there.

Bob Wilson led the Avon force
With a worthy secretary, Marion Morse.
In Les Enthousiastes, that club divine,
Countess Noe was a president fine.

In the long past year of '26
North was in the best of fix.
'Twas this noble class of Seniors
Who knew no misdemeanors,
The Handbook did originate.

Chancellor worked so hard, his pate
Did ache and he was very ill.
Margaret Schuh tried hard to fill,
The book with features needed.
And there's no doubt that she succeeded.

In athletics North was fine
And in basket ball the boys did shine.
Dyer as center couldn't be beat
'Cause he was at least six feet.

This last year Watauga again did start
To teach its members parliamentary art.
Dumaree, Davis as leaders on the floor
Made speeches like orators of yore.

When Dramatics department produced Strongheart
The Seniors who had important parts,
Were Pritchard, Treadway, Cohen and Wilson,
Rawlings, Legg, and Atcheson.

When the Stadium campaign was started by the Association
The public was sought for lots of donations.
Seniors did stunts; many folks did they ask,
Thus raising enough money to accomplish the task.

At the girls' basketball meet the sophs were scared stiff
By the almighty Seniors, later given a biff.
There were on the team Warner and Eagle,
Guthrie, Roberts and Miriam Riddle.

The Honor Society made up of the best
Enrolled sixty-two, more than all the rest.
Elected as President was Emerson Walters
A lad, I hear, who never falters.
While Rosamond Sterritt was chosen as scribe;
Her duty it was the meetings to describe.

And now I come to the best of their efforts
The organization of Student Court.
Thompson, chief justice, Miller, and Jarvis,
Were the Seniors who filled their duties so marvelous.

On the boys' quartette Bob Boyles and Ed Brown
Took away in their songs the teachers' frown.
And girls sang too, I do believe
There were Winnard, and Sprague in Girls' Glee.

All of these things that are so grand
Just led right up to Commencement grand
Then the Seniors did graduate
Greater laurels still to take.

THE CLASS WILL

WE THE Senior class of North High School, county of Franklin, city of Columbus, state of Ohio, being of ancient age of unsound and decomposing mind and memory; realizing that our days in the yellow leaf, that the flower and fruit of love are gone, that the worm, the canker and the grief are ours alone; do make, publish and declare this to be our last will and testament.

Senior bequeaths to Soph.:

Item 1. We bequeath that a padded cell be left to the Student Court for the imprisonment of students who are members of the Society for the Promotion of Criminal Acts.

To the best cowboys we tenderly bequeath the Latin ponies. (Here's your chance, Sophs. Ride 'em cowboy!)

To all the Junior and Soph bachelors, the beautifully furnished apartment, with the exception of Miss Davis' walnut logs.

To the Sophs, the challenge to produce another editor as handsome and intelligent as our own.

We bequeath to all the incoming Sophs the hot air gathered from auditorium meetings.

The Sophs have the privilege of producing a laugh as famous as that of Bob Boyles'.

To the fortunate or unfortunate Sophs or Juniors, the privilege of becoming a member of George Dyer's "Daddy Long Legs Club".

Senior bequeaths the following to Junior:

Item 2: The clocks which either keep the right time at the wrong time or the wrong time at the right time.

Provided Jack Evans' tooth is found, we direct that it be given to the Juniors, to be used as a nucleus for an athletic museum.

Bob Thompson's voice to some Junior, "would-be-opera-star."

To Juniors the task of overcoming stage fright. We suggest they begin by simply considering their audience.

To those who are on hall duty, a pole with a nail in the end to pick up all our waste papers.

To the junk man the stuttering typewriter in room 319.

To all the unfortunate people who have to sit in the rear of the auditorium, an ear trumpet.

We direct that all our old hats, left in lockers be given to Jean Willison.

Senior bequeaths the following to the teachers:

Item 3:

The residue of the Senior class dues (if any) are to be used to buy Mr. Lawrence a new comb.

To Mr. Will, an extra week to enable him to get his grades in on time.

To Mr. Campbell, the book entitled "The Manly Art of 'Self-defense'," by Sic. M. Fido.

To Miss Rickey, a 1913 beer check to be endorsed to the up-building penny fund.

To Miss Kutz, a lasso to haul in the pupils running to lunch.

To Mr. Olney, all our old chewing gum wrappers left in study halls.

To Mrs. Greene, a year's subscription to "College Humor."

To Mr. Sayre, a pair of roller skates to enable him to reach his scattered class rooms on time.

Mr. Hagely (the Iron Duke): Ten complete lessons on "How to Play Ping-Pong," by Knute Rockne.

To Miss Griffith, the remains of the Boston Tea Party.

To Mr. Jones, An autographed edition of "How to Make Change Accurately and Speedily," by C. C. Pyle.

To Miss Davis, her famous expression, "The Freedom of the Class."

To all the bald men teachers: the hair that the women teachers have disposed of.

To Miss Rickey and Mr. Olney, a well trained parrot to assist them whenever occasion requires an unlimited vocabulary.

To Mr. Hayes, a looking glass to enable him to see why the women at Colgate College called him by his middle name, "Milo." (Whether after his namesake or otherwise.)

To Mr. Paxton (the detective), a scooter with horn and spare tire.

THE SENIOR PARTY

AS the happy Seniors of '26 thronged into the gymnasium on the eve of May 14, they found themselves in a transformed bower of maroon and gold, the real North High colors of which each loyal Senior is so proud. The North High dance orchestra was ready with such intriguing melodies, all were quickly absorbed in the dancing of the moment. Each girl was presented with a novel program finished in maroon and gold, with the school seal.

At the beginning of the evening one act of "Clarence," a comedy by Booth Tarkington, was presented in the auditorium. The players coached by Mr. C. G. Olney, Dramatics Instructor, were Flora Belle Bolin, Elizabeth G. Miller, Catherine Calaway, Virginia Jeffries, Caldwell Rawlings, Carl Barr and Robert Little.

The following committees were appointed by Senior Class President Jack Evans: Entertainment, Winifred Warner, Chairman, Marjorie Dum, Roberta Connolly, Elliott Aydelott and Robert Thompson; Decorations, Ruth Connell, Chairman, Adelaide Earhart, David Morgan, and Cleo Dumaree; Refreshments, William Hinchman, Chairman, Van Snider, Juanita Bowers, Betty Shirey; Program, Howard Bass, Chairman, Lorayne Geer, Hazel Paul and Eleanor Diltz.

When the dancing came to an end and dainty refreshments were served, then to each graduate came the realization that commencement was only too near, making high school days bubbling with youth and mirth but footprints in Memory Lane.

THE CAST OF THE SENIOR PLAY

SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS DELIGHTFUL DOUBLE BILL

THE Senior Class, for their annual dramatic offering, this year, made a distinct departure from their former efforts, and presented, most charmingly and artistically, a double bill consisting of two notable examples of old-time drama, viz.: "The Cricket on the Hearth", by Charles Dickens, preceded by a curtain-raiser, that rollicking farce, "Lend Me Five Shillings?" by James Madison Morton.

That the choice was a very happy one was evinced by the readiness with which both groups of players caught and reflected the spirit of these classics of yesterday, as well as by the evident enjoyment of the fine, large audience in the efforts of these youthful Thespians.

There is about "The Cricket on the Hearth", a certain tenderness and whimsicality which reminds one of some of Barrie's plays. And the highest compliment which we can pay to the players is to record that they seem to have caught just that spirit and "put it across the footlights". Those who contributed to this fine, ensemble effect were: Henry Stewart, whose beautiful voice and mobile face made the part of Caleb Plummer most appealing and convincing. Gwendolyn Long, as the sweet, gentle blind daughter of Caleb was simply pathetic, and quite won the sympathy of the audience from her first appearance. The rugged and hearty John Perrybingle, who was always "very near it", was in the capable hands of Sam Pritchard, while playing opposite to him, in the role of the little wife, Dot—"and a carry", Esther Payne was a delightful piece of acting. Tackleton, the toy-maker, the heavy villian of the play was portrayed with nice discretion by Thomas Treadway. The element of mystery was furnished by the character of the Old Gentleman, who, later turns out to be young Edward, was played by that good looking juvenile Lorayne Geer. The comic relief came from a delicious "bit", happily in the care of Flora Belle Bolin, who, with the "baby", nearly "broken up" some of the more serious scenes. Other parts were in adequate hands and the play, in its entirety, was a gem of dramatics.

The curtain raiser, "Lend Me Five Shillings", was a neat foil for the more serious drama, and was played in so sprightly a fashion, by an admirable cast, as to make up an almost ideal double bill for the evening. Here, again, Henry Stewart virtually "starred" in an entirely different part from that of Caleb in the "Cricket". His Mr. Golightly was splendid, being facile and infectious in its humor, and sprightly inaction. He was irresistible. Roberta Connelly played Mrs. Major Phobbs with such dash and vivacity, while Eleanor Ross in the role of Mrs. Captain Phobbs, left little to be desired or criticized. Robert Little was the ubiquitous waiter, Sam, Leonard Cohen, was extremely effective as the dignified and bumptious Captain Phobbs and Burvill Glenn and Jack Baker as Captain Spruce and Moreland, respectively, added greatly to the success of this rollicking farce.

The matter of staging was notably good and the casts of both plays showed the effects of intelligent and intensive coaching. Altogether it was an evening of rare enjoyment for all.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

Mr. Everett, Miss Skinner, and Fellow Classmates:

As the first Sophomore class to enter our New North High School we wish to broadcast from station J-U-N-I-O-R the history of the achievements of this Junior Class.

1. The Age of Innocence. — By Sophomore Green.

How big and vast those halls did seem,
To us mere Sophomores so new and green;
We hardly knew which way to go,
The crowds of students confused us so.

Though limited in many school activities, and ignorant of high school life, the Sophomore class during nineteen-twenty-four swung into the school spirit with full sway. Charlotte Worrell, started off the year by being elected to the Student Council, and Dorothy Hooper, Sophomore member of Girls' Athletic Council. As the result of the Polaris try-outs, Alice Fulkman, was chosen Sophomore editor of the Polaris staff.

In athletics we shone as well, the Sophomore Girls' Volley Ball Team were champions over both Juniors and Seniors, and a large number of representatives took part in the Field Day Exercises. Many promising athletes appeared among the boys, such as Harold Westervelt, William Nesser, Louis Pepe and others. The Sophomores also showed themselves capable as participants in many other fields of work.

2. "Seventeen" — By Junior Talkyton.

Not yet to Seniors' lofty height,
Have we risen in our flight;
But on the junior road we stand
Just find a nobler, better band.
'Stand by" awhile and watch us go,
As Juniors we have not been slow.

The year of nineteen-twenty-five and six was very prosperous for the Juniors; we had many representatives in the Student Council, Language Clubs, and many other organizations.

At the beginning of the school year, the following were elected as officers of the Junior Class: Lee Landsittel, president; Sara Erwin, vice president; Eleanor Marshall, secretary; Julianna Clum, treasurer, and William Nesser, sergeant-at-arms.

Juniors were again as prominent in music, taking part in the octette, quartette, orchestra and glee clubs. Olive Jones was at the piano most of the time, and how that girl can play.

The hearts of many girls were thrilled at the sight of Kelsey, Pepe, Hauser, Bowen, Weisheimer, and "Westy" when they came upon the basketball floor.

To top off the season, "Bill" Nesser, Sara Erwin, and "Chuck" Hannum were elected to the Student Court and the Junior girls won the annual intramural basketball tournament.

Station J-U-N-I-O-R signing off.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

THE Sophomore Class of 1926 was made up of 303 boys and 282 girls coming from Indianola, Everett, Crestview and 11th Ave. Junior Highs and each one is now a cog in the big wheel at North.

Although they were unorganized the class held a large part in some of the school projects and did its share willingly.

Some of the outstanding classmates were Johnny Hines, Prentice Osbourne, and Mildred Van Dervort, who were elected varsity cheer leaders by the student body; Mary Phelps, who represented the class on both the girls' volley ball and basketball teams; Mary Johnston, who was the only Sophomore who had the honor of being chairman of a study room. The class was also well represented in Orpheus, Watagua, Y. W. C. A., the Orchestra and the Glee Clubs.

Its members did their best to live up to the ideals and standards made by the former Sophomore classes and express the hope that the new class will achieve even better things.

ALICE WORLEY

THE SOPHOMORES

Oh, Look at that questioning sophomore;
How trivial he seems to be;
He searches each day every class door,
The wrong number only to see.

Now look at the arrogant sophomore.
Ah! How he astonishes me.
No wonder! He'll soon be a Junior —
And then — well — just wait and you'll see.

EDITORIALS

APPRECIATION

ONE thing the editors are especially glad to do is to thank the many who have contributed to the accomplishments of The Polaris. Without the co-operation of the school as a whole, The Polaris could never have attained its new record of publishing twenty issues of the paper and also this annual. We hope that the benefits have been mutual, and that the pupils have profited by subscriping to our publications.

The Polaris appreciates the assistance given to it by the faculty members, especially to such as Mr. F. P. Darby, of the Mechanical Drawing Department. It would scarcely be excusable not to thank Mr. C. G. Olney, of the Dramatics Department, for the gift of one third of the profits from the presentation of the play, "Strongheart". Our thanks go also to all the students who helped make "Strongheart" such a success.

The North Columbus community has given a great deal of aid to The Polaris through the advertisements which the merchants have placed in the papers and yearbook, and we are deeply grateful for the financial returns received in this manner.

Of course, The Polaris editors are deeply grateful for the unceasing and indispensable efforts of The Polaris's Faculty Advisers, Mr. Stanley Lawrence, who had general supervision of the work; Miss Mary C. Gale, who served as Art Adviser; Mr. Earl D. Mayer, who had charge of the advertising; Miss Nan Costigan, who was Literary Adviser, and Mr. E. M. Selby, faithful custodian of our funds.

North High School is fortunate in its Principal and teachers and we have felt their kindly spirit all along the line. There has been in general a spirit of helpfulness on the part of the faculty and students which we trust will be extended to our successors in this work.

OUR ACHIEVEMENTS

When the doors to North's hall of learning close this year it will also mark the closing of the most successful year for The Polaris since its founding in 1898.

The first change that occurred this year was the converting of the paper from a Bi-weekly to a basis of 20 issues a year or an average of one paper every ten days. Other local high schools are still holding to the proverbial Bi-weekly. Besides the additional papers which the staff was forced to edit, it also found it possible to publish two six page papers, one of which established a record in the United States for circulation of any one issue of a high school paper as far as we know. The issue spoken of was the paper boosting the Recreation Field of which 7,500 copies were distributed.

In the contest for high school publications held at Ohio State University under the auspices of the Journalism Association of Ohio Schools, the Polaris was given honorable mention as an all Ohio newspaper, and in the class of schools from 1,000 to 2,000 enrollment. In the contest held at the University of Wisconsin for members of the Interscholastic Press Association Polaris rated high, being listed a Second Class Honor newspaper in a rating of five classes of papers.

The 1926 Polaris Annual is the finest high school annual ever published in Columbus. It contains several unique features for a local high school annual: namely, the scenic section of eight pages, and the section devoted to Junior pictures, which, because of the large numbers of Juniors was exceedingly difficult to manage.

From a progressive point of view the Polaris this year has endeavored to maintain the standard set by the staffs that have preceded it. The staff of 1926 feels assured that it has done its utmost to uphold the tradition of North, that of ever advancing and progressing in any project undertaken.

THE YEAR'S ACHIEVEMENTS

THE past year has been an unusual one in more than one way. The Athletic record hung up by boys and girls alike is a remarkable one and shows the result of steady, earnest work.

The products of each department have shown a wonderful progress and in all cases calling for co-operation the school has responded with alacrity.

Drives, movies, plays, campaigns, anything, and everything with the real "old fightin'" spirit; North has met many tests this year and has each time come through with flying colors.

Probably the biggest thing that ever has or ever will be put before the school as a whole was the Recreation Field Fund Drive. Although it involved a lot of hard and tedious work the plan was met with enthusiasm. Many brilliant ideas were formulated and everyone "dug in".

The Student Council functioned most effectively, and together with the Student Court showed the practicability of student participation in school government.

Starting something new in Columbus High Schools a committee of the Student Council compiled and edited a Handbook, since judged one of the best published by an Ohio High School.

These are but a few examples of the many doings of the year for there have been no end of projects and propositions tackled and brought down.

But the thing that has made success not only possible but inevitable, is the whole-hearted co-operation, the undaunted enthusiasm and the same old school spirit of which we hear so much and which is so characteristic of the entire history of the school.

Acknowledgments are gratefully made to the 1924 CODEX of Beloit College, Wisconsin, for permission to use the idea for the photographic art plates in the boys' athletics division. —Editors.

"GREATER LOVE HATH NO MAN"

By Douglas Moody, '27

HAL was "yellow." Yes, undeniably yellow. Everybody on the campus knew it. Ever since he had come to the small college town the student body had been enthusiastic over his chances of making the football team. Two hundred pounds of bone and muscle, a fine fullback, and now lost to the team because its possessor was a yellow coward! The coach had personally interviewed the big, blond, curly-headed schoolboy, but with no success. Even "Nippy" Edwards, his room-mate, was almost disgusted with him. A chance to make the football team!

Personally, I took the stand that if he didn't care to try out for the team, it was nobody's business but his own, but I was sure that if I hadn't been a cripple since birth, certainly I would be a candidate. But Hal was steadfast in his determination, and, therefore, came in for a great amount of snubbing, especially from the co-eds. He and I soon became friends on account, I suppose, of our both flunking a test in anatomy, and, in this way, I also became acquainted with "Nippy," because we studied together for our coming examination thinking thus to combine our meagre knowledge and so be mutually helpful. We were studying the evening before the test when "Nippy" suggested going hunting. "Rabbit season opens tomorrow, and I just got a new gun," he said. At first, I demurred on account of my leg, but, seeing that Hal was interested, I said that I would go if I passed the test. Since Hal's father lived on a farm, it was easy to obtain another shot-gun for me.

We were to go to class, and, if the grades were sufficiently high, we were to be excused for the rest of the day. Hal's grade proved to be enviable, while mine was barely passing. I shall never forget. Professor Higgins had said, "Mr. Giblin, you are now eligible for the football team." Evidently, the professor did not know the facts of the case. Several fellows guffawed loudly, and a silly girl giggled shrilly in the back of the hall. Hal colored. "Enough of this," roared the Professor. "Don't you know that it is ignorance to laugh at nothing?" At first, Hal thought that Mr. Higgins was deliberately trying to embarrass him, but he soon saw that such was not the case.

Hal, Nippy and I went hunting all right. For several hours our luck was indifferent. Nippy and Hal each bagged a rabbit while I had yet to get my first shot. Then, suddenly, I saw a flying white patch scudding down a runway. Bang! "I hit him," I yelled, "I hit him!" But the desperate bunny was slowly moving away. It was my first and the others, not wishing to see it get away, were already on its trail. Brer Rabbit had stopped on the other side of an old-fashioned rail fence. Nippy was on the fence, about to jump down, when his gun slipped, falling to the ground. Bang! A scream! "Nippy" fell on top of the gun. Hal vaulted the fence, while I followed as fast as my crippled foot would allow. "Shot in the thigh, just above the knee," he said hurriedly. "See what you can do,— I'm going for a doctor." The cottontail was forgot. It was apparent that Nippy was in grave danger of bleeding to death.

Hastily searching for a flat stone, I tied the two opposite corners of my handkerchief together. Having found the object of my search, I laid the stone on his leg, against the side of the artery which had been severed by the shot. Using my knife handle as a lever, an effective torniquet was applied by twisting the knife. This done, I turned around to see what had become of Hal. He was way down the road, running as fast as any man of more moderate proportions. He still had two miles to go to reach the doctor's office. His cap and sheepskin coat had been discarded, as well as his gun. He was out of sight now. Nippy was still unconscious, although the flow of blood had almost stopped. I then began to realize Hal's presence of mind. The nearest phone was in the doctor's office, three miles away. He knew that it would be impossible for me to run. He knew also that there was no other phone within four miles. He knew that I was studying to be a doctor and could do more for the unfortunate Nippy than he. All these things he weighed before his starting, but his decision was instantaneous. Then I heard the whistle of the slow freight. Would Hal beat it across the track? If he didn't much valuable time would be lost.

The doctor came in his auto, treated Nippy, but Nippy had to go to the hospital for quite a while.

Dr. Marshall and I walked out of the hospital. "Where is Hal?" I asked.

"He staggered into my office, told me where you were and then fell upon the couch."

We drove to the office. There was Hal, an expression of agony on his face, dead! Heart trouble! No wonder he wouldn't play football! Only three people knew why: the coach, in whom he had confided; the family, doctor, and himself. Truly, it was a remarkable example of unselfishness. He didn't want his Mother to know, because she was an invalid and it would only worry her. The watchman told of a furious race between a determined runner and the freight, which the man had won by a few inches. "A battle against sure death," said Dr. Marshall.

As I stood there looking on poor Hal for the last time, this old scriptural quotation ran through my mind again and again: "Greater love hath no man than this — that he lay down his life for his friend!"

THE MOON GARDEN

By Virginia Taylor

Within the filmy walls of the silvery moon lies a garden, where lilies hold their waxen heads aloft above the pansies' friendly little faces. Where nightingales in golden strains of crystalline delight pour out their love into a scarlet rose. Where columbine and honeysuckle twine their slender arms about the garden walls and blend their fragrance with the mignonette. A fountain throws its laughing spray aloft in bursts of sheer delight and tender comes an all endearing sound, the turtle dove's mellow mournful coo. And fairer far than all these miracles, a troop of children, laughing, shouting, "Come and splash within the waters of the smiling pool".

From a lovely Cypress' cool green shade, steals the Princess of the Moon. She is beautiful—ah yes, with a delicate beauty which children adore. A curly headed chap sighs wistfully and slips his arm about his idol's waist. The eyes of the Moon Princess grow dreamy, drowsy with the joys and sorrows of ancient years.

Tenderly the children draw about her. 'Tis their story hour, the hour worth —all of life. How still it seems! The Princess starts the tale, "Once upon a time—" And now the moon builds a shining path across the water while its beams caress the earth with tenderness. Who know what tale the children hear.

THE JOYS OF PROCRASTINATION

BY ROBERT MARQUARDT

Not unlike a great many other things there is an art to procrastination. And it is cultivated on a scale of considerable magnitude. With a little encouragement these mental "bugs" will breed by the millions. They will inject their poison into the victim's mind and hinder his chance for success. And the victim, self-centered in his own laziness unwittingly contributes to his own downfall by cultivating these procrastination bugs in his mind. Of course, you must grant the fact that he has a mind, if not grant it anyway as he will need it.

According to an article in the American Magazine "Earnest hard work is the only antidote that will successfully exterminate these pests. Work is the great conqueror, friend of all men and the means of all honest successs".

I know of a certain person who has cultivated in the recesses of his mind a colony of these infernal pests in such tremendous numbers that in the range of present day mathematics they are incalculable. And again I can cite another case where the person works as hard as the former, that is in a material or rather in the financial sense of the word. Almost all progress in the American point of view, must be in terms of dollars and cents.

To my way of thinking we have but one life to live, and ephemeral at that, so why not regulate our actions accordingly, between work and procrastination? Perhaps the balance may swing farther to one side than to the other but I doubt very much if I shall die from the hard, hard labor.

Exchange

DURING the past year Polaris Exchanges were sent into every corner of the United States, two of its most important territories, and the District of Columbia. Twenty-three states, Alaska, and the Philippine Islands were represented in this number. Washington, Oregon, California, Texas, Georgia, Florida, New York, Connecticut, and Masachusetts were among the more distinct states into which the Polaris was sent.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

STUDENT COUNCIL

TO write of the achievements in North High School during the past year, is, in a sense of recount the activities of its Student Council, whose members, some sixty in number, formed a truly representative group with service to the school as its keynote. It also carried out its purpose of providing an organization to make possible closer student co-operation with the faculty and to give the students greater opportunities for self-direction by letting them express their own ideas on matters of school importance, to the end that better citizens might be made of our pupils.

Outstanding among the finished enterprises of this year's council was the publishing of the first High School Handbook in Columbus which just overshadowed the success of the second annual open session and the Polar Bear drive.

The officers of the council elected for the year were: Robert Newlon, president; Emily Houston, vice president; Virginia Shoop, secretary, and Elliott Aydelott, treasurer. The Executive Board consisted of the chairmen of the following committees: the Building, Corridors, Library, Cafeteria, Social, Handbook, Honor Rooms, Girls' Scholarship, Home Room and Activities; together with the officers and members ex-officio who were the presidents of the senior and junior classes and the Editor of the Polaris. Miss Eleanor Skinner, the vice principal, with Miss Bertha Jacobs and Mr. M. H. Hagley were the able faculty advisers.

"Follow, follow, follow the gleam,
Banners unfurled o'er all the world,
Follow, follow, follow the gleam,
To the chalice that is the grail."

THE Y. W. C. A. just closed a very successful year with an enrollment of 310. In the form of a contest, a membership drive was conducted under the leadership of Olive Jones and Gertrude Walker, representing the Blue and White sides respectively. Because the Blue enrolled more than the White, they were entertained at a party in the gym by the Whites.

The Christmas program this year was under the direction of the Y. W. C. A. with Roberta Connolley presiding. Martha Richwine had charge of the stage decorations and Martha Collicott headed the social service committee. Y. W. representatives from each registration room brought forward the gifts that the whole student body had donated. The Girl Reserves certainly followed the gleam by providing cheer and substantial relief for fifteen destitute families in the northern part of the city. Clothing, food and money were sent as the girls' holiday offering.

At a Y. W. conference held at Cincinnati, March 27-30, Roberta Connolley, Martha Collicott, Beatrice Aderholt and Elva Chamblin represented North and returned with many helpful hints for our Girl Reserves.

Several parties were held during the year which served as get-togethers for the old and new girls and made them become better acquainted.

This years' officers were:

Roberta Connolley, President; Winifred Warner, Vice President; Olive Jones, Secretary, and Adelaide Earhart, Treasurer. The advisors were Miss Junk, Miss Mulligan and Miss Bancroft.

The officers for the coming year are:

Charlotte Worrell, President; Olive Jones, Vice President; Mary Phelps, Secretary, and Sarah L. Ervin, Treasurer.

WATAUGA HOUSE

WATAUGA HOUSE

WITH the entrance into the new building, demands for the reorganization of the Watauga Republic, were renewed with the result that, with the opening of the second year at the new North, the august Representatives assembled to settle affairs of State.

This eighth session of the House was one of the most, if not the most, interesting of all the others. Representatives introduced more bills than any House before them and their interest and co-operation in working made the whole session one of pleasure and enjoyment. About forty bills were submitted and sixteen printed for the House, alone.

Exciting debates were held, the best probably being on the bill introduced by Fuyuki Barnes, Relative to Providing for the Fixing of the Age Limit at which a Citizen of the Watauga Republic may Vote and Regulating Suffrage. According to the Speaker's view, it was the finest that had ever been given in the House, despite its past records.

THE DOUBLE MIXED QUARTETTE

THE double mixed quartette was organized last fall by Mrs. Hess, and later came under the leadership of Miss Rees. Although called upon to learn some very difficult music, they responded to Miss Rees's calls for practice with wonderful spirit, and have earned a just reward. MARIGALE ART CLUB

THE MARIGALE ART CLUB

THE Marigale Art Club, organized February 4, 1925, ended its second and most successful year, under the efficient guidance of Miss Mary C. Gale, Art teacher, in honor of whom the club was named, and the able leadership of Leonard Stiers, the president. The purpose of the club was to afford closer contact between its members and the artists themselves. Only those who were either junior or senior in art were eligible for membership, although others especially interested were permitted to attend the meetings and trips.

The club's activities for the year included four after-school trips to the homes and studios of different well-known artists, and one to the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts. Several illustrated talks were also given at the school by artists. While twice during the year, paintings by nationally known artists were exhibited in the art gallery for the benefit of the whole school. A party was held on the roof adjoining the art room, in May; this was followed by a combination picnic, hike and sketching trip.

A very appropriate pin for this organization was designed by Leonard Stiers. It is of silver in the shape of an artist's palette, with the word Marigale, also silver, written around the edge and set in a background of dark blue.

There were sixty-five members in the club this past year. The requirements of eligibility were E or G in Math and passing grades in all other subjects.

On the third Wednesday of the month the meetings were held, when interesting programs were presented on mathematical topics. During the winter one party was given and a June picnic closed the club meetings for the school year.

THE AVON CLUB

THE AVON CLUB

THE AVON CLUB was organized in March, 1925, by pupils in the 19th and 20th Century English classes of Miss Abigail E. Simpson, who acts as Faculty advisor.

The present membership is 180, composed of students taking 11th grade or 19th and 20th Century English, with grades of E or G.

Modern prose, and poetry, and original poems, short stories, and essays by the members, with talks by outside speakers compose the programs. The authors studied this year are David Grayson, Amy Lowell, William Dean Howells, Edith Thomas, Robert Frost, Mark Twain, and Edwin Markham.

Eight programs have been presented this year, including two Auditorium programs; at one of these Professor William L. Graves spoke on "Good English," at the other — a Shakespearean Anniversary Program — Professor Joseph V. Denney gave an address on "Shakespeare, The Man," and a group of Shakespearean songs was sung by Miss Winifred Dickson, accompanied by Mr. Edwin Stainbrook. Mr. Roy H. Oman at one of the meetings gave a splendid picture of "English Literary Shrines."

From the delightful Christmas party a bushel basket of toys was sent to the Children's Home, and the tree and trimmings were given to the North Side Day Nursery.

At the Annual Picnic held at the Storage Dam an outdoor play was presented and various sports indulged in.

The Avon Club Book nook in the Library, a Club project initiated by last year's Club, now contains more than 60 volumes and is at the service of the whole school.

VERGILIANS

VERGILIANS

VERGILIANS, a senior Latin club organized to promote an interest in the classics, was founded in 1922 by Mrs. Clara F. Milligan, head of the Latin department. The motto is "Non vivere, sed valere est vita," which means, "Not to live, but to amount to something, is life."

Students who are studying Vergil or who have completed the work, are eligible to membership. The dues are twenty-five cents a year.

The club meets once a month when an interesting program is presented. This year the members took an imaginary trip through Italy with competent guides who gave mind pictures of all the points of interest.

The Vergilians were in charge of an auditorium program, January 27. Dr. M. B. Ogle, dean of the Classical Department of Ohio State University, regretted that so little time is now spent in reading worth-while books, but expressed confidence in the youth of today and their sincerity.

The officers for this year are: Jack Evans, president; Rosamond Sterrett, vice president; Hazel Paul, secretary; Edna Ziebold, treasurer, and Bob Boyles, sergeant-at-arms.

La Luz

THE LA LUZ SPANISH CLUB

FOR two years the La Luz Spanish Club has progressed very successfully. They have done many things that have helped the club considerably. Besides promoting an interest in Spanish life, customs, and speech, at regular bi-weekly meetings, social activities have been staged at intervals to foster fellowship among the members.

The club conducted an Auditorium program in March, 1926, at this time professor, Glen S. Barr, gave an interesting lecture on South America and illustrated with slides.

The La Luz pins are designed with the Coat-of-Arms of Spain.

The dues for each semester are twenty-five cents. Part of this money is used for the purchase of different Spanish newspapers printed in the United States. This kind of work is a change from the daily text book and also gives the pupils a wider knowledge of the Spanish language. The papers used were La Prensa and El Eco.

The officers who were elected for this semester were the following:

Elliot Aydelott, president; Dorothy Winnard, vice president; Mary McAndrews, secretary; Johnny Williams, treasurer, and Charlotte Shaw, club reporter. The faculty adviser is Mr. William Mark Taylor.

LAS ESTRELLAS DEL NORTE

LAS ESTRELLAS DEL NORTE

URGED on to activity by an ever increasing membership which has now reached fifty, Las Estrellas del Norte has entered into many new activities this year under the supervision of Miss Florence Shelton, faculty advisor.

Originated in 1921 under the name of "Siempre Viva", the club has changed its name but not its purpose, which is stimulating interest in Spanish speaking countries. One must have received a grade of E or G in Spanish to be a member of the club, and two consecutive absences from meetings disqualifies a member. Dues are twenty-five cents a semester.

At the meetings held every other Wednesday, a business session is followed by an interesting program, planned by a committee of pupils. The subjects discussed the past year have been many and varied, such as Music in Spain, Spanish Royalty, Bolivia, Peru, Chili, Argentina. In an auditorium program slides describing Brazil were presented. The most recent activity of the club was the presentation of a two-act play "Uno Debe Casarse", which was presented at the last meeting of the year with Ruth L. Irwin, Naomi Ballard, Charles Hollenbaugh, and Douglas Green in the leading roles.

The officers of the past year were, President, Lee Landsittel; Vice President, Ruth L. Irwin; Secretary, Naomi Ballard; Treasurer, Lucy Hanna; Sergeant-at-Arms, Fred Johnston.

NOUS AUTRES LES ENTHOUSIASTES FRANCAIS

LES ENTHOUSIASTES FRANCAIS

LES Enthousiastes Francais, a senior French club which Miss Ethel La Velle is supervisor was organized in 1924. Its meetings this year were held monthly on Tuesdays. The purpose is to create interest in the customs and habits of the country of France and its people.

Early in the fall a group of pupils gave a very lively debate upon the relative merits of the characters in the book, "Le Voyage de M. Perrichon". Mr. Smyser of Ohio State University spoke on "The Educational System of France". In December a real Christmas party was given. For January, February, and March respectively Moliere, Mardi Gras, and Easter programs were presented. France, as seen by members of the French faculty as well as the annual picnic complete the year's activities.

The officers of the club are: Countess Noe, president; Harriett Heller, vice president; Marjorie Dum, secretary; Thelma Hoffman, treasurer; William Shupe, sergeant-at-arms.

At first the membership was limited to those who had had two full years of French but this past semester a few other second year students were admitted upon the recommendation of the adviser, Mrs. Maddox.

A few meetings which were open to all students taking French were held at which very attractive programs were presented. The short comedy on French married life, given by two members of the Ohio State French Club, Miss Elinore Heaton and Mr. Sabaugh was one of the biggest successes of the whole semester.

DEBATING SOCIETY

NORTH HIGH DEBATING SOCIETY

THE North High Debating Society was organized in March, 1926, by the first public speaking class at North High School. The club was formed to promote an interest in public speaking, lecturing, and general conversation. The meetings were held twice every month, the first of which was devoted to general business and discussions, the second to debating. As the pioneer in the field of the art of self-expression it has aroused a great deal of interest.

The serious work has interestingly mixed with burlesque which made it much more attractive. A mock trial was staged which, in addition to 100 giving valuable points in accordance with court procedure, offered amusement for the members.

The officers elected to serve the first term were as follows: President, George McClellan; Vice President, Mary James; Secretary-Treasurer, Ray Metzger; Sergeant-at-Arms, Burvil Glenn. Miss Nan Costigan is the Faculty Advisor.

The membership is limited to those in their Senior year who are interested in debating and a few Juniors, elected by the membership committee.

THE RADIO CLUB

LA AURORA BOREAL

RADIO CLUB

THE North High Radio Club was organized to bring fellow radio bugs together that they might review the science which has so uniformly gripped the entire world.

Although small in membership the club proved to be a success to those interested and was the representative group of North's radio fans. The club was open to any boy or girl who had sufficient interest to attend the meeting regularly.

The officers of the club this year were: Francis Gibb, president; Floyd Bell, vice president, and Walter Pierson, secretary-treasurer, being re-elected to the same positions in which they served the preceding year. Each of the officers own and operate an amateur transmitting station at his home under the government calls of 8BAU, 8CBP, and 8AZK respectively, as well as being a member of the internationally recognized American Radio Relay League.

Bi-weekly meetings were held on Fridays during the class period. The programs consisted of talks on the history and customs of Spain and Spanish speaking countries. On one occasion Mr. Taylor gave an account of his travels in South America.

THE BAND

THE BAND

THIS year marks the third year of existence of the North High Band, and the first year under the direction of Mr. W. H. Lehman.

The Band was first organized in the fall of '23, under the direction of Mr. Carl Spangler, of the Science Department. The organization continued under his direction for two years, and during that time the roll grew from 16 to 35. Much credit is due Mr. Spangler for the Band that North is so justly proud of. Last year the Band appeared at one of the Basketball games in full uniform, and that game placed it on the roll of Organizations at North as a permanent institution.

This year the Band was taken over by Mr. Lehman and under the direction of this able leader it has developed into one of the finest High School Bands in Ohio. On April 30 it entertained the radio listeners of Central Ohio with a program broadcast from station WAIU. It was one of the organizations instrumental in putting over the big Recreation Field campaign this spring. By furnishing the music at the annual Rotary Banquet for the representative students from the different high schools it was proclaimed the hit of the season by the Rotarians. By stirring marches and pep songs it spurred the different teams that represented North on the field to many victories, making a year that will long be remembered as one in which the Band rightly gained the privilege to be listed as an organization of which every loyal North supporter is proud.

THE ORCHESTRA

THE ORCHESTRA

THE Orchestra is a standard organization at North High School. It is of interest to all who like to play or are interested in music in any form.

In the term just passed the orchestra played for performances of "Strongheart", "The Cricket on the Hearth", the senior class play, and for auditorium meetings, a concert at school May 21, and over the radio May 28. It is near the top of the ladder in perfection.

Mr. W. H. Lehman, the new director, obtained wonderful results working under the handicap of being a stranger who had to get acquainted with everything and everybody in the school. He worked hard and ably filled the place of Miss Lydia Falkenbach, his predecessor. He deserves much credit for his untiring efforts. The orchestra is larger this year than in any past year and has a membership of sixty-one.

The officers this year were: Glenn Crihfield, president; Donald Miller, vice president; Olive Jones, secretary and treasurer.

BRASS QUARTET

AMONG the new projects in the music department of North High, the brass quartet was one of the best liked of them all. This organization although just started the second semester, worked hard and faithfully in the short time allowed them, and their music was of the best quality. Practices were held twice a week. This unit broadcasted from WAIU Friday, April 30, and also played in the Orpheus student program.

THE JAZZ ORCHESTRA

Along with the other musical groups started this year, the snappiest, peppiest, most modern and up-to-date unit, the jazz orchestra, was organized under the direction of Mr. W. H. Lehman, instrumental instructor of music at North.

As it is the desire of every one in this day and age to be modern and up-to-date, it is the desire of our school to keep up with the times, and this marks the newest improvement of the music department in its history at North.

On many occasions the people of North were entertained by this harmonious group, as it has made many appearances. Its first one was at the basketball game between North and South, where it established a reputation. The melody troupe also played for the "N" Association Banquet, Co-Ed Prom, Senior Dance, Class Day and various other occasions.

THE VIOLIN QUARTETTE

From year to year the different musical units have been added to the list of older ones. This year brought many new ones, the string quartette being one of the most popular.

This organization was the idea of Mr. W. H. Lehman, instrumental musical instructor, and it was under his supervision that this group along with others was originated.

The quartette made appearances in programs at Eleventh Ave. Junior High, North Broadway M. E. Church, in various auditorium programs, the Orpheus program, and in the first annual musical concert of North. The fine showing made at these appearances marked its future development as a success.

HONOR STUDY ROOM OFFICERS

THE HONOR STUDY ROOMS

THE 14 Honor Study Rooms have come to be a big factor in the school curriculum. Approximately 1200 student are given an opportunity every day for quiet and undisturbed study.

All pupils, 10-Bs excepted, are eligible, provided they have pledge cards signed by three of their teachers in major subjects. "In order to develop self-help and self-control I hereby apply for admission to the honor study room. If permission to be a member of it is granted to me, I will show my appreciation of the privilege by pledging myself to refrain from all communication and to do all that I can toward preserving excellent order there," is the pledge given by each member. These cards are kept in room files and are accessible at any time.

Each room elects its own group of officers consisting of: President, Vice-President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, and Messenger. These with a faculty advisor have complete charge of the room.

STRONGHEART CAST

STRONGHEART

ONE thousand eight hundred pupils and friends assembled in the auditorium, Friday evening, March 26, to view the fifth performance of the North High Players in their presentation of "Strongheart", a four-act comedy-drama, written by William C. DeMille.

Although the play has been deemed exceedingly difficult for amateurs, the production, under the guiding hand of Mr. C. G. Olney, and through the co-operation of Miss Gale in designing the costumes, Miss Rees, and Mr. Lehman, directing the Glee Club and Orchestra respectively, and the various teachers making up the tickets, publicity, properties, and boosters committees, added another triumph to North's dramatic success.

The cast was excellent. Caldwell Rawlings, as Strongheart, made a thrilling Indian lover; he was ably supported by Elizabeth G. Miller, who handled her tense dramatic moments with ease. Robert Thompson, as love-lorn Billy Saunders, and Molly Livingston, played by Ruth Connell, furnished chuckles for the whole audience. None the less did Tom Treadway, much bespectacled and slow of tongue, fit into the role of Reade, the scholastic bore. And oh, yes, we musn't forget Don Bartlett, who, as the wicked villain, succeeded in making everyone hate him. Sam Pritchard, Leonard Cohen, Horatio Atcheson, Catherine Calaway, Frances Chapman, and Robert Wilson, portrayed their minor roles with skill.

One can never forget the second act with the football game, the cheering crowd, and the stirring strains of the Maroon and Gold band, making the audience almost imagine themselves at a real game. And of course we can't omit Coach A. C. Jones bawlin-out, which all the boys said was just like the real thing.

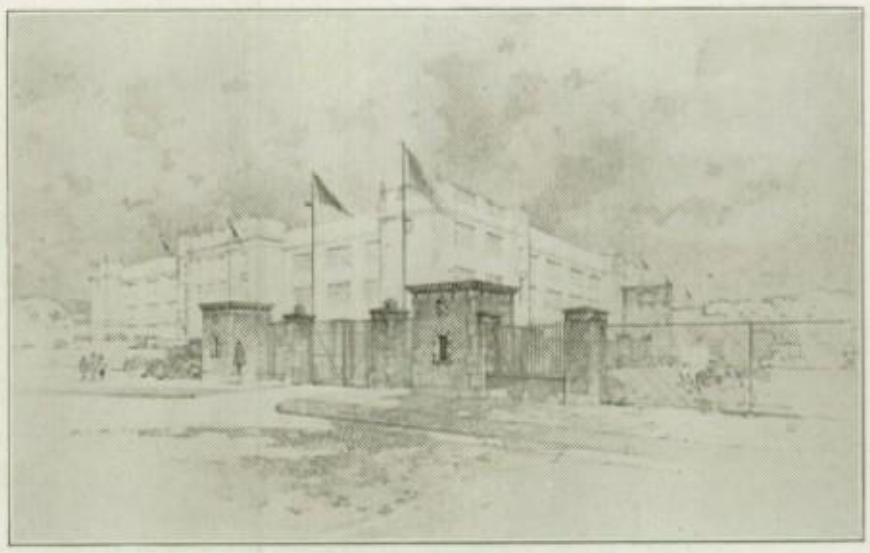
The profits realized from the play amounted to $880 and was divided equally among the Student Council, and the Dramatic and Journalism departments, each group receiving $247.00.

Those in the picture are:

First Row: Leonard Cohen, Horatio Atcheson, Millicent Legg, Frances Chapman, Elizabeth G. Miller, Catherine Calaway, Caldwell Rawlings, Carroll Bazler.

Second Row: Donald Bartlett, Thomas Treadway, Ruth Connell, Robert Thompson, Robert Wilson.

Third Row: Sam Pritchard, Mr. C. G. Olney, Hubert Nichol, Robert Boyles.



RECREATION FIELD

1926 will long be remembered as the year in which the campaign for North's Recreation Field was successfully carried out and the dreams of many faithful Alumni came true.

The Field project was the biggest thing ever attempted at North, and it is very probable that it is the biggest that ever will be attempted. It was this year's campaign, that will make the beautiful bleachers, the fine grassy fields, and the majestic gateway at the entrance to the field a reality. The whole project required a grand total of $65,000, and the quota of the Under-Graduate group was $20,000, or $11.28 per student. At the time that this book went to press the success of the project seemed assured, and the officials in charge appeared satisfied as to the outcome of the drive.

The campaign was well organized, there being one general chairman and three main group chairmen. The prospects were divided into three divisions namely, the Alumni group, the Business Men group, and the Under-Graduate group. Mr. H. P. Swain, Principal of Crestview Junior High School, was the general chairman for the entire project. Mr. Corwin A. Fergus headed the select prospects committee, Mr. Ray Evans took charge of the Alumni Group and Mr. A. C. Jones supervised the Under-graduate group. Mr. Harvey W. Miller was in charge of the Business Men's Division. There were many other sub-workers who did no little bit in putting the thing over.

North will be the first high school in Columbus to have a well equipped recreation field. It will long stand as a memorial to the unfailing response of North's Alumni and friends, which is given to all worthy projects, and which has yet to fail in such an undertaking.

VARSITY N ASSOCIATION

The Varsity N Association was organized at the beginning of this school year and with Jack Evans, president; Howard Bass, vice president; Wilbur Bachman, second vice president; George Dyer, secretary; Harold Westervelt, treasurer, and Edward Alten, sergeant-at-arms, the organization has fared exceedingly well.

The association stands for certain ideals and purposes that have helped to make it a success. They are namely: good sportsmanship, co-operation of faculty, coaches and student body, encouragement of all students of ability to try out for teams, and the finest of school spirit. With these and several more important articles a constitution was drawn up which will influence North High athletics for years to come.

Along with the serious business of the organization was the funny part. After the football season, all the new letter men were initiated. The initiation consisted of several different degrees; the first required some real research and hard work by the candidates. The last or comical degree was held in the gym before the North-West basketball game. The event was featured by Addison Hudson and Robert Horn as "Topsy and Eva" and George Lentz as a ballet dancer. The following men were also initiated: Wesley Southard, Hubert Nichols, Elliot Aydelotte, Gerard Lindsley and Alfred Ault.

The organization had long realized the need of an athletic social affair, and after a time plans were formed for The Athletic Banquet and Dance held in the cafeteria and gymnasium on the evening of April seventeenth. The original North pep was present, constantly encouraged by the speeches of Mr. Collicott, Miss Gugle, Mr. Wiggins, Coach Hagely and Coach Jones. The dance after the banquet was the best ever held by a North High organization, excepting none. By this banquet and dance a precedent was formed, which, it is hoped will be followed every year and in time become a tradition of the school.

This organization we assure you although the membership was only forty, was always ready for work or pleasure.

ALTHOUGH North High's football record for the season of 1925 was not perfect, the team had a successful season. In all, eight games were played and North won half of them. Five were city league tilts and Hagly's men copped three and lost two of these to tie for the city chapionship, with East, South, and Aquinas who had similar records. This made the fifth time in the past six years that North has either won or tied for the city title. In the three contests played on foreign fields the Maroons copped one and were defeated in the other two.

POLAR BEARS COP FIRST ONE

Opening the season September 26th at Athens, Ohio, Coach Hagely's gridders put the first game in the win column by defeating Athens High 7-0. Athens had a fine eleven and the game was a hard fought battle throughout. In the second quarter the only markers of the game were made when Captain Eddie Alten circled left end for 43 yards to place the ball on Athens 19-yard line. A pass Fowler to Harrison gained 15 yards and Bachman bucked it over in two attempts. Pepe drop-kicked goal.

North then journeyed to Toledo on the succeeding Saturday and there played the strong Waite eleven. Waite, who had one of the strongest teams in the state, defeated North 28-0. After holding the Purple and Gold gridders to seven points in the first three quarters and themselves threatening to score in the third stanza when they reeled off five consecutive first downs the Polar Bears went to pieces in the final ten minutes and the Waite backfield galloped through the Maroon eleven for three touchdowns.

MAROONS DEFEAT AQUINAS

Aquinas High fell before the Maroon and Gold team in the first city league game by the score of 10-6. North outplayed the Green and Gold gridders the majority of the game and outclassed them more than the score may indicate. Aquinas secured their points when Stotsberry blocked a North punt and Hodapp fell on it in back of the North goal line. Alten scored North's touchdown and kicked goal for the extra point. Pepe added the other three with a field goal from the 18 yard line.

Coach Hagely's gridders next played Central and easily vanquished them 14.0. North scored in the first three minutes, when on the fifth play of the game Kersell recovered a Central fumble on their 1 yard line and Alten quickly bucked it over, and also place-kicked goal. In the second quarter Bachman made the second touchdown and Pepe kicked goal.

In the fourth game of the city league schedule South defeated North 12-0 in their annual football tilt, for their first gridiron victory over the Maroons in eight years. Both of South's touchdowns came as the result of blocked punts by Captain Snyder of the Blue and Gray. North's best chance to score came in the first quarter when they carried the ball to the South 28 yard line, here the South defense tightened however and North lost the ball on downs.

NORTH WINS ANNUAL GRID CLASSIC

November 19th at Neil Park in their annual gridiron classic North High walloped the East High aggregation 13-6. Led by Captain Eddie Alten, who was the individual star of the fray, the entire Maroon eleven played a whale of a game. North needed this game to tie for the championship and they got it.

Immediately after the start of the second quarter North marched from their 48-yard line for a touchdown. Alten scoring the touchdown and also kicking goal. With ten seconds of play remaining in the first half, Pepe was sent in for Evans and "Lou" on the first play dropped back to the 31-yard line and drop-kicked a field goal. Again in the third quarter Pepe was sent into the game and this time he kicked a goal from the 17 yard line. With less than a minute to play, Buckland, Orange and Black right guard, picked up a Polar Bear fumble and ran 22 yards for East's lone score.

North rang down the 1925 season by traveling to Akron, Ohio, on Thanksgiving day and losing to the South High eleven of that city by the score of 21-7. The Maroons scored a touchdown in the first quarter with a beautiful fifty yard march, but after that were held scoreless. Hench scored a touchdown in the second quarter for Akron, when after passes had brought the ball close to the goal line, he bucked it over. Akron's next score came when Hershey, Blue and White end, intercepted a North pass and raced 43 yards for a touchdown. In the third quarter Akron marched 55 yards down the field for their other tallies. Aultman drop-kicked all three goals after touchdown.

PERSONNEL OF THE SQUAD

Captain Edward Alten, senior; "Eddie" was an ideal fighting leader, the team's leading scorer and the best halfback in the city league. He was honored on every all-high team picked.

Captain-elect Addison Hudson, junior; "Bump" although somewhat slight of stature is a great end and will prove to be a fine captain. He was the scrappiest player on the squad last fall and next year should be a sterling wingman.

Wilbur Bachman, senior; Wilbur was a hard plunging back and a fine defensive player. During his two years of service his playing was often the feature of the game.

Jack Evans, senior; Jack playing his first year as a regular was a brainy field general. He was a triple threat man, doing practically all of the punting and passing.

Howard Bass, senior; possessing a world of drive for a small man "Howie" was a dandy halfback. He was adept at following interference and picking his holes. He also was a fine defensive player, his hard low tackles always bringing the runner down.

Vance Kersell, senior; "Lefty" was another player who blossomed out in his senior year as a regular. He was a good blocker and tackler and could sure snag forward passes.

Charles Ogier, senior; "Chuck" kept up his good work of the year before and proved to be one of the best tackles in the high school league.

Alfred Ault, senior; "Alf" was a hard working player who won a regular berth in his last season, and came through with a fine brand of football. Together with Tracey and Ferguson he made the opposing backs think that they had hit a stone wall in the center of the line.

Ward Tracy, senior; Ward was a fine center, his passing throughout the entire season always being accurate.

Wilbur Ferguson, senior; a regular guard for two seasons "Fergie" played a consistently good game last fall, and was one of the best lineman in the city.

Herman Harrison, senior; Herman has played two years at North and leaves a fine record behind him. Shifted over from tackle to end this year he made good from the start and was the best end in the city. He was placed on the Citizen all-high team.

Robert Horn, junior; a sub on the sidelines until the last two games, "Bob" got his chance in the East fray and proved to be a ball toting fullback. Next year he should be a star of the first rank.

Louis Pepe, junior; "Lou" a diminutive player, was a fine punter and passer and one of the most accurate drop-kickers ever to grace a Columbus high school gridiron.

Russell Fowler, sophomore; a good forward passer and punter, "Russ" will probably get a regular berth next fall.

George Dyer, senior; was one of those tall rangy tackles that can cover lots of ground. George played a good game until the time he was laid up with injuries.

In addition to the above men, Nesser, Aydelotte, Westervelt, Southard, Lentz, Richards, Lindsey, Nida, Nichols and managers Bollens and Overman were awarded letters.

THE 1925-26 basketball season was the greatest North High has ever had. The record for the campaign was twenty victories and four defeats. Some of their victories were over the best quintets in Indiana, Ohio and Illinois. They were by far the class of the city league and easily walked away with the title. This made the first city basketball championship for North since 1922. Every member of the team was a wonderful player and Mr. Jones molded them into a great machine.

During the season the team rolled up a total of 741 points to their opponents 442; an average of 30.8 points per game to their opponents 18.3. Central, Zanesville and Kokomo, Ind., were the only three teams to score more than twenty-five points against North. Ten times during the season the Polar Bears held their opponents to less than fifteen points. In eighteen of the tilts North registered more than twenty-five points while only once were they held to less than twenty.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

December 4th the Central Ohio Champs opened their season with Harding High in the North gym and took an 18-17 licking. On succeeding week ends the Maroons walloped the Alumni 30-15 and Harding High 45-21 in a return game at Marion. Geer and Hinchman each making fifteen points in the latter tilt.

On Sunday, Dec. 27th the squad hopped on a train for Peru, Indiana, where they played the first game of the Xmas trip on the following night. Peru proved to be fairly easy and North trimmed them 34-22; Geer registered nineteen points. The following night Kokomo, Ind., took the Polar Bears into camp by the score of 39-34. This game was one of the greatest played all season. On the 30th North defeated Tipton, Ind. 29-19. This game marked the beginning of a string of victories that lasted until the South game at Delaware. The last day of 1925 was spent in riding to Chicago, Illinois, and resting up for the coming trio of games. On the first day of the new year, Coach Jones' crew defeated New Trier, Hi., 24-19. New Trier had one of the best teams in the state and later won their way to the national interscholastic tournament. On Jan. 2nd and 4th respectively, the Maroons trimmed Evanston, Ill., 27-13 and Streator, Ill., 22-13.

MAROONS WALK THRU CITY LEAGUE

North's cage crew walloped Trade 40-12, Jan. 13th in the opening city league game. Central next fell before the Maroon and Gold five, by a score of 31-26. This was the best game of the city league schedule and a thriller throughout. Tittel, Central forward caging seven field goals. The Central Ohio Champs next won from East, 31-21; Aquinas, 26-11; West, 33-12 and South, 29-16.

Trades High was slaughtered to the tune of 60-12 by the powerful Bear quintet in their second round game. This was the largest score rolled up by the Maroons all season. Before a crowd that packed every square inch of space in the North gym, the Jonesmen next trimmed Central High 20-14 for their twelfth consecutive win. Feb. 10th, East High, the team that later represented the Central District at the state tournament, was walloped by North 48-15. Captain Evans of North, a former East player, making twenty-one points, six more than the entire Tiger five.

The fighting Irish five of Aquinas High gave the Bruins a good battle in their second round game. They held the Maroons to a 14-14 tie in the first half but were unable to keep up the pace in the final periods and were defeated 30-23. In the two remaining league tilts North defeated West, 22-11, and South, 35-22.

Then with everything in the world pointing towards a victory for the Jonesmen they went to the District tournament at Delaware. In the first round game Friday, Mar. 5th, North trimmed Mt. Vernon High 27-15.

BRUINS ARE DEFEATED AT TOURNAMENT

On the following night North played South High in the second round and their chain of victories was broken. South went into the game the underdog and "having everything to win and nothing to lose," they took a shot at the basket, practically every chance they had, and as luck would have it quite a few of those shots went thru the net. Led by Smith and Pettibone who made four and five baskets respectively from uncanny distances and places, the Blue and Gray five defeated North 23-20 and eliminated the Bears from the tournament. This was an unfortunate defeat, for it kept North from competing in any further tournaments.

The tournament was chockful of upsets as may well be seen in the fact that East defeated Central, West defeated South and Delaware won from Harding High in addition to the surprising outcome of the North-South tilt.

Zanesville High staging a great rally in the last quarter defeated Coach Jones' quintet 32-27, Mar. 13th in the North gym in the closing game of the season for the Maroon and Gold outfit. At the end of the third period North had a 23-18 lead but in the final quarter the Blue Devils registered fourteen points while North was making four and literally snatched a victory from the fire. North made the fatal mistake of trying to stall with too much time left to play. Later the Zanesville five won the championship of Ohio and then went to the national tournament at Chicago where they won ranking as the fifth best team in the United States.

PERSONNEL OF THE SQUAD

Captain Jack Evans was a superb leader, a great forward and the leading scorer of the team and city league. Every sport writer put him on his all-high team.

William Hinchman is probably the greatest all around basketball player ever turned out at North High School. "Bill" was a fine shot and floor man and as a guard ranks with the best of them. He made every all-high team picked.

Harold Westervelt, captain-elect for the coming season is a veteran of two years campaigning. "Westy" alternated with Bass at running guard and was so good that he really made the sixth regular on the quintet. He is a fine long shot, a good guard and will be a great leader.

George Dyer was the backguard of the team and the backbone of the defense. To George goes a great deal of the credit for North having the best defensive record in the city league. Easily the best guard in the city, he was put on every all-high team picked.

Lorayne Geer was a substitute in 1925 but he played such a fine brand of ball last year that he beat a former regular out of his berth. Geer was a fine short shot and made the Citizen all-high team.

Howard Bass played every position on the team during the season but the majority of the time he was seen at the running guard post. He was fast on his feet, full of drive and pep and a good shot. "Howie" made the Journal all-high team.

Charles Kelsey: "Happy" was a sub-forward who kept the regulars hustling for their jobs. In 1925 Kelsey was a regular on the Delaware High team which shows that he is a fine player. He has one more year at North and will probably be one of the mainstays next season.

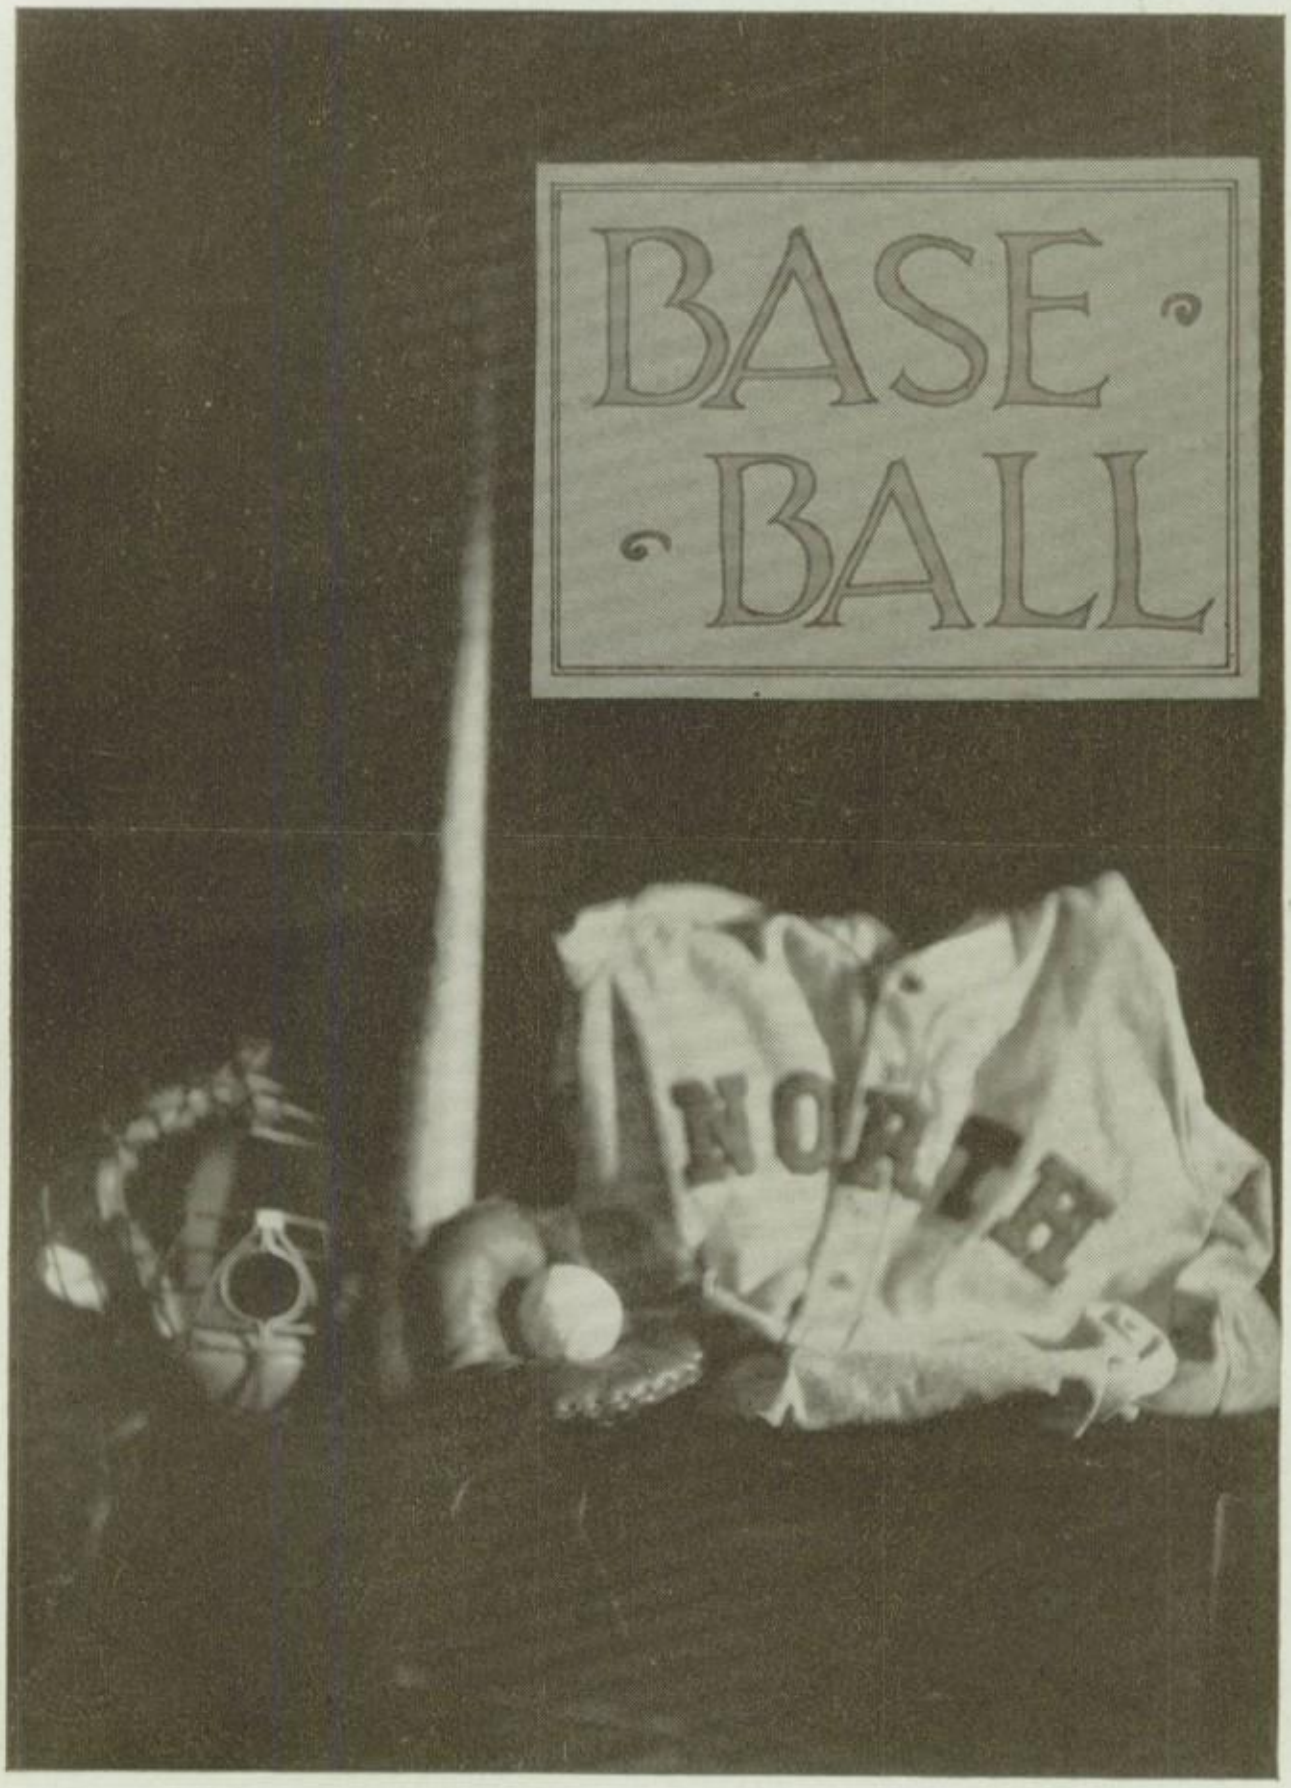
Louis Pepe was a sub-forward who proved a capable substitute for Evans and Hinchman. He has one more year and will probably land a regular berth.

James Hauser: "Jim" was a fine running guard but scholastic difficulties kept him ineligible until the second round of the city league. In his next two years he should develop into a star player.

Arthur Weisheimer: "Art" was a second string forward who should go big in his next two years at North. He is a good shot and pivoter and was easily the star of the second team's games.

William Simpson: "Bill" a sophomore, was a good center this year but he was ineligible until February. However, when he became eligible he proved a capable sub-center and should have a good chance of landing a regular position next season.

Benjamin Bowen: "Ben" is a promising sophomore backguard. This year he served as an understudy to Dyer and during the coming two seasons he should go good.



BASE

Second Row: Mr. A. C. Jones, coach; William Nesser, Glenn Crihfield, Henry Gilmartin, Edward Riebel, Louis Pepe, Arthur Weisheimer.

THE North High baseball nine is perched at the top of the city league standing with two wins and no losses and has a fine chance of copping the title as this article is written. The team as a whole is a terrific hitting crew and owns a batting average of .500 for the two tilts played.

There are only two other teams in the league that are undefeated at this stage of the race. They are: East High who has a record of games won and lost similar to North's and South High who has one victory to their credit.

With Hauser, Stevenson, Pepe and Captain Hinchman the only lettermen back this year, Coach Jones was faced with the task of filling the five remaining positions with inexperienced players and making of it a successful nine; and it looks as if he has accomplished that task for the team in a success so far.

FINE PROSPECTS UNEARTHED

Some fine prospects were unearthed in the early workouts and the opening lineup was as follows: Stevenson and Pepe were at their old positions, third and second, and Raymond in between them at short. Hauser was in center field and Hinchman and Nesser in left and right respectively. Lewis was on the initial sack. Criffield was behind the plate and Horn on the twirlers' mound.

The team has played good defensive ball and has been a regular wrecking crew on offense. In two games they have made one home run, nine doubles, three triples and thirty-five singles. Here are some of the individual batting averages: Hinchman .818, Nesser and Lewis .666, Hauser .636, Horn .444, Criffield .400, Raymond .363, and Pepe and Stevenson .300. Although such great hitting could not hope to be kept up all season; even when the team meets some better pitching and the averages simmer down, they will still be worth-while.

MAROONS SLAUGHTER ACADEMY

April 28th in the opening game of the league the Jonesmen mercilessly slaughtered Columbus Academy 25-3 at the Academy field. Led by Captain Hinchman who cracked out five bingles, the Maroons altogether collected twenty-five hits, which included a homer, five doubles and a triple.

Horn pitched the first four innings of the tilt and held the Academy players hitless and scorleless. Hinchman pitched the fifth and sixth stanzas and neither did he allow a hit or run. In the final three frames Brown was the Maroon and Gold twirler and the Salt coached team nicked him for three hits and a trio of runs. Matt pitched all the way for the Academy nine. The Bruins clinched the game early, getting six runs in the first inning. Three markers in the third, nine in the fourth, four in the fifth, and three in the seventh completed the scoring.

WALLOP TRADE HIGH 24-10

In another slugging bee Tuesday, Mar. 4th, the Polar Bear diamond aggregation turned in their second league victory, when they walloped Trade High 24-10, at Sunshine Park. Horn started on the hill for North but was wild and the Carpenters registered seven runs in the two and two-thirds innings he pitched. Hinchman was brought in from left field to relieve him and hurled good ball the rest of the route. Emmelhainz pitched the entire fray for Trade despite the fact that he was pounded for twenty-three hits.

The lead changed hands five times in the first four innings. In the first of the fifth with the score standing 10-9 in North's favor the Maroons began to clout the ball with a terrible vengeance and sent fourteen runners across the plate in the next three frames while the Erkmen were counting only once. The game was called at the end of the seventh by agreement of both coaches.

Nesser was the leading Bruin slugger with five hits out of six trips to the pentagon. Hauser and Hinchman were close behind him with four safeties apiece. Stevenson also used his club to an advantage getting a double and triple. Emmelhainz was the best Purple and Gold batter, lacing out a double and a single for two of his team's five hits.

PERSONNEL OF THE SQUAD

Captain William Hinchman, senior: "Bill" is the leading hitter and slugger on the nine and a mighty sweet fielder. So far this spring he has alternated between left field and the pitcher's box. He is a sure catcher of fly balls and has speed to burn when performing on the mound.

James Hauser, junior: "Jim" is a natural-born baseball player. Last season he played shortstop like a seasoned veteran. This year he has seen duty at first base and in center field. He can play either well and is an excellent hitter.

Harold Stevenson, senior: "Steve" covers the hot corner like a big leaguer. He is fast, a fine fielder and if he increases his batting average a little in the remaining games he will be the best third sacker in the city league.

Harold Raymond, junior: is playing his first year in the high school league, and is a fine shortstop. He can cover lots of ground and is a beautiful fielder. He is batting around five hundred at present and looks to be the best shortstop in the league.

Louis Pepe, senior: "Lou" is the guardian of the keystone sack. He bats from the port side of the plate and is a good hitter. He is a great fielder and makes hard chances look easy.

Robert Horn, junior: "Bob" is a big husky right handed pitcher with speed and control. He let Academy down without a hit in his first start this spring. He is a good hitter and plays in the outfield when not pitching.

Stephen Lewis, junior: "Steve" was a sub last year but this spring he has grabbed off a job as regular first baseman. He is a good fielder and got four hits out of four trips to the plate in the Academy game.

William Nesser, junior: "Bill" is a small, stocky, hard-hitting right fielder. He has a good batting eye and most of his hits are solid smashes. He can cover his share of the outfield and has a good arm.

Glenn Criffield, sophomore: is a fine receiver. This is his first season of high school ball and he handles himself well. He has a good throwing arm and is a fair hitter.

Edward Riebel, junior: "Eddie" is an outfielder who is making the regulars hustle to keep their positions. He is a fine hitter and a good fielder. He will probably take Hinchman's place next year.

Arthur Weiseimer, sophomore: "Art" is racing neck-and-neck with Crihfield for the receiver's job. He is a good thrower, is full of pep and has a fine knowledge of baseball.

James Brown, senior: "Jimmy" throws with his left hand and is a twirler with lots of curves. He will probably see a lot of service as a relief hurler this spring. He is a good batter and may play in the outfield occasionally.

Henry Gilmartin, junior: coming here from Detroit where he played last year. "Hen" gives promise of being a fine hurler. He has been bothered with a sore arm during the early part of this season, but will probably do some good hurling after his arm has recovered.

Harold Fike, junior: can play either third or short and acts as an utility infielder. He will probably take Stevenson's place next year.

Ralph Leahy, senior: "Tibbles" plays in the outfield and is a good fielder and hitter.

Donald Long, sophomore: "Don" is acting as an understudy to Pepe this season. Next year he will probably step into a regular berth.

Carl Ernsberger, sophomore: "Tubby" is a first baseman who should go good in his next two years at North.

SECOND ROW: Fremont Coe, Paul Riegel, George Dyer, George Greer, Glenn Salisbury, Paul Holstein and Joe Walkup.

TOP ROW: Mr. M. M. Hagley, coach.

AS THIS copy goes to press little is known about the North High track team. A dual meet with Westerville High and the participation of part of the squad at the Ohio Relays have been the only two times North has been in actual competition so far this season. Hardly any practice has been held to date because of the fact that there is no place for it to be held. The privilege of using the Ohio Stadium could not be secured this spring and the school track is not yet completed, but it will be finished however in a week or two and then the squad can get down to a steady routine of work and should make a good showing in the Central Ohio and city meets.

The best performances turned in by members of the Maroon and Gold cinder squad at the Ohio Relays were: a fourth place in the 120 yard low hurdles was taken by Lentz; a fourth in the high jump was won by Daugherty and the medley relay team composed of Lentz, Jarvis, Hannum, and Powell took third place in their heat.

On Friday May 7th the Polar Bear tracksters traveled to Westerville and took a 69-54 trimming in a dual meet with Westerville High. Captain Hannum, Dyer, Lentz, Reese and Daugherty turned in winning efforts for North while Miller, Dixon and Weinland were the stars of the up-state team. Dixon cleared the bar at 11 feet, 6½ inches in the pole vault and Dyer put the shot 44 feet, 1¾ inches for the outstanding features of the day.

PERSONNEL OF THE SQUAD

Captain Charles Hannum, junior; "Chuck" is a crack half miler who will probably win his event at both the district and city meets. Last season he hung up a record of 2:07 and has been undefeated this year, if he can clip a few seconds from his former record he will be a star of the first calibre.

George Lentz, senior; is a start at traveling over the high and low hurdles. He runs both events in fine time and gives promise of being a great trackster in his future years at college.

George Dyer, senior; in his first season of competition George looks like he will be a sensation. After only two weeks of practice he can put the shot 45 feet; throw the discus 105 feet and the javelin very close to the 160 foot mark. He should increase these marks in the remaining weeks and win several points for North in the coming meets.

Delmont Reese, senior; although this is his first year on the team he is a good quarter miler. He won his event in the Westerville meet and stands a good chance of doing likewise in the city and district meets.

William Daugherty, junior; "Bill" is a great high jumper. He can almost always be counted on for five points in this event because he can consistently clear the bar at five feet nine inches, and often goes higher. He is also a good broad jumper

Glenn Nida, junior; is a good 220 yard and 440 yard dash man. He can cover both in good time but shows to the best advantage in the shorter distance. He is also a member of the mile and half mile relay teams.

Glendale Smith, senior; "Smitty" is starting his third year of track competition and should go better this season than ever before. He is a broad jumper and his leaps will certainly win points for North this spring.

Collier Powell, senior; he won his letter last year as a quarter miler but this spring is devoting his energies to the mile run. Although slight of stature he should go good in this event.

Richard Jarvis, senior; "Dick" is a 440 yard dash man and also a member of the mile relay quartet. He took second in the Westerville meet and should win several points for North in the remaining meets.

Joe Walkup, junior; is a good timber topper. He and Lentz make a great team in the high and low hurdles events and should run one-two in the city meet.

Cecil Kanavel, junior; is a century dash man and a pole vaulter. He is a good performer in both events and should develop into a star.

Charles Hollenbaugh, senior; "Chuck" is a high jumper who should cop some points for North in this event. He can do five feet seven inches now and should increase the height some before the end of the season.

GYMNASTICS

WINNING the state championship and placing second in the city meet was the result of the North High gym team's campaign this year. Although competing in only two meets all year the men on the squad practiced faithfully for months prior to the meets and Coach Hagely deserves a great deal of praise for developing such a fine team.

North won the state championship at the first annual state gymnastic meet held at Delaware, under the auspices of Ohio Wesleyan University, March 27th. Led by Wright, McCreary and Hoover who took first places in their respective events, the Polar Bears walked away with the meet with a total of 439.6 points, 27.6 more than their closest competitor, Columbus East.

SECOND IN CITY MEET

Just four days later the city gym meet was held in the North High gymnasium and tht best that Hagely's men could do in this, was to place second. East High won the meet by making 372.4 points. North had 355.8 and Central was third with 190.5.

Practically every man on the squad was a star performer. McCreary and Hoover won the state and city individual championships in their respective events. Wright won the state title in indian club swinging but was unable to compete in the city meet because of illness.

Holberg won the city championship on the high bar for the second consecutive year. Sting was the all-round man on the squad, he teamed up with the other men in the high bar, side horse, and parallel bars. Captain Eesley and Captain-elect Bangham, both performed on the flying rings. Brown was North's star on the parallel bars and took second in the city meet. Wolfe performed on the mats and was fine, he took second in both the state and city meets. Holberg and McCreary are the only two lost by graduation, so North can probably count on another championship team next year.

SWIMMING

FOR the third consecutive year the North High swimming team won the city championship. The victory this year brought a silver loving cup into the permanent possession of the school. The Maroon natators copped every one of the four meets and rolled up a total of ninety-four points, thirty-two more than East High who finished second. Academy was third with forty-eight and South High fourth with eighteen points.

Since the formation of a high school swimming league seven years ago, East and North have each won the championship three times and Academy once. East copped in '20, '21, '22; Academy in '23, and North in '24, '25, and '26. During the three years that North has owned the city title they have won twelve consecutive meets.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

In the first meet of the season Friday, December 18, the Maroon and Gold swimmers took four firsts and a third for a total of twenty-four points. Shaw came through with a first in the 40 yard back stroke. Bill St. John plunged forty-six feet, which was quite enough to win him a first in that event. Batterson was the class of the divers and the relay team made the fourth first when they raced to victory. Neel added the other point with a third in the 60 yard free style. Academy with seventeen poinnts finished second, East third with thirteen and South fourth with ten.

By winning three firsts and two seconds North copped the second meet of the season, Jan. 15, with twenty-four points. Bob Boyles turned in a first place in diving and Hunter Young was the first to touch the finish line in the 40 yard breast stroke. Wildermuth grabbed off a second in the 60 yard free style and "Tank" Neel did likewise in the 40 yard single over arm. The relay quartet again won a neat victory.

Registering twenty-four points for the third time the Polar Bear natators easily took the third meet. Pete Shaw flashed through the water to a victory in the 80 yard medley. Boyles won his second consecutive victory for North in the diving. In the 240 yard relay Payne, Wildermuth, St. John and Shaw again brought home the bacon. Dunning finished right behind the Academy man for a second in the 80 yard free style. Hunter Young drug "Spike" Edmonston through the water to a second in the rescue and carry.

NATATORS MAKE IT FOUR STRAIGHT

The final meet of the season was held March 19 and North came through with their usual number of points to clinch the championship. Shaw garnered his third victory of the season when he won the 120 yard medley. Dunning competing in two events this particular evening, got a first place in the push ball for time and a second in the 100 yard free style. Jack Payne placed third in the diving. Wildermuth, Deeg, Payne and Marshall made it four straight victories in the relay events.

Howard Bass, captain of the team, did not participate in any of the meets this year. "Howie" was also a regular on the basketball team which played on the same nights as the meets were held. As there were Batterson and Boyles, both excellent divers, to take his place on the swimming team, he devoted all of his energies to basketball.

LETTERS AWARDED TO THIRTEEN

After the completion of the season the following men were awarded letters: Captain Howard Bass, Jack Payne, Elden Marshall, Floyd Dunning, William St. John, Franklin Neel, Pierson Shaw, Fred Edmonston, Robert Boyles, John Batterson, Richard Deeg, Hunter Young and Manager Jack McDonald.

Every member of the squad except Edmonton, Bass, Dunning and Boyles will be back next year, so prospects look pretty good for North making it four consecutive swimming championships.

SENIORS WIN VOLLEY BALL TITLE

VOLLEY BALL, the first major sport of the season for the girls, proved even more popular than in any year previous. Over two hundred candidates answered the call. These were immediately grouped according to their rank, either as beginner or advanced, the former learning the rudiments of the game while the latter practiced serving and returning.

After the intra-mural league, several general practices were held, followed by the tryout for class teams. These squads were picked after the girls had played an exhibition game and had been graded upon their merits. The judging was done by girls from Ohio State University.

The tournament was played after several weeks of intensive practice. In the gym, gayly decorated with class colors, the three teams clashed and after some very exciting and tense minutes, the Seniors proved their superiority by downing the Juniors 14-3 and 14-4, and the Sophomores 14-10 and 14-4. The Juniors took second place by defeating the tenth graders 14-4 and 15-13.

All girls and their parents were invited and the proceeds went toward new athletic equipment.

Miss Gene Griffith coached all teams.

INTRA-MURAL VOLLEY BALL LEAGUE

THIS year marked the beginning of another tradition in the girls' athletic department, that of playing a schedule of volley ball intra-murals. All girls who so desired, signed up for competition, and after the preliminary practices, were cast by lot into twenty-two teams of nine each. The schedule was run off by elimination of teams as they were defeated. All titles were decided by twenty-one point games with the exception of the championship struggle, which was composed of three thirteen point games.

The better brand of ball which was played this year, may be attributed to the intra-murals. They furnished some very valuable experience to the beginners, who otherwise might not have had a chance to make the class teams, and also prepared the others for the annual classic.

There was not so much shifting of team personnel this year as last, because of the ban placed by the new Girls' Athletic Association.

BASKETBALL WON BY JUNIORS

BASKETBALL, most popular of all girls' sports, enjoyed even a more successful season this year than ever before. As in volley ball, about two hundred girls aspired to make the various teams, and came out for practice. Much time was spent in teaching all who cared to learn, the very foundation and secrets of the game.

Among the experienced players, some excellent guards, forwards and centers were developed. The girls used the gym on every available occasion and played some very good practice games.

The tryout for class squads was practically the same as that for volley ball. Besides the regulars, substitutes were selected in order that the first team might have someone to practice upon. These girls gave their time and energy freely and certainly showed their real spirit.

The playing in the annual tournament was of the highest calibre, and it was only after some very tense and thrilling moments that the Juniors were pronounced champs. They defeated the Sophs 14-11 and the Seniors 17-12. The Seniors placed second by defeating the Sophs 13-10.

The best kind of sportsmanship was displayed by all teams. Stunts were presented between games and voted a howling success by the spectators.

Much credit for the progress made is due to Miss Gene Griffith, coach, and to Miss Mayes B. Rickey, head of the department.

BASKETBALL INTRA-MURAL LEAGUE

THE second annual intra-mural basketball league proved even more successful and profitable than the first.

As in other major sports, it was open to all girls who cared to enter it. The candidates were divided into color teams of six each. The schedule was played off by elimination, squads dropping out as they were defeated. A number of the girls received valuable training by refereeing the games.

The training rules which the majority of the players kept so faithfully, aided them in their work and amply repaid them for their will power and sacrifice.

As the number of teams left dwindled down, interest grew amazingly and many stayed after school to witness the struggles.

The championship game was a speedy contest from beginning to end, and the lead was tossed back and forth 'till the final whistle blew. The Brown team finally won by the score 25-21.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girls' Athletic Council, which functioned for six years, was disbanded this year. The reason for the step being that its work has been taken over almost entirely by the Student Council. However another new organization has appeared, The Girls' Athletic Association. Membership in the club is based on a point system. It is open to any girl who fulfills the requirements necessary for earning one hundred points. Additional credit is given girls who win more laurels, and they are presented with sweaters. The points take in practically every phase of physical education. As yet, only a few girls have earned their membership. The organization will attend to all student government of athletics, and will promote all athletic enterprises.

INDOOR MEETS

Indoor meets, the only inter-school sport of Columbus girls, are held between the various schools, and North has won all in which she has participated. The events scheduled includid various kinds of relays, formal work, marching tactics, foul shooting, far-throws and short games.

BASEBALL AND TRACK

Because of the unfinished condition of the athletic field, any baseball and track had to be played in the gym. Therefore these sports could not be carried on in the regulation way. The best was made of the circumstances, and some training was given along these lines, inter-class and intra-mural schedules being run off.

FIELD DAY

A new idea was started this year in connection with the annual field and flag day. The girls themselves originated their own dances and designed their costumes. They carried out the thought of autumn, each different group representing some fall fruit or flower.

Although weather conditions prevented the exhibitions of work, the girls gained as much good from them as though they had been able to stage their productions.

ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual athletic banquet was held and enjoyed by all. At this time, all emblem awards for the year were given to the championship teams and recognition made of all who had earned membership into the Athletic Association.

PHYSICAL EXAMS

Physical examinations were given to each gym girl twice during the year, once in the fall and once in the spring. In the first, the girl is told how to correct her faults and in the second, note is taken of the progress made during the year.

Say it don't seem possibel does it? Wy I can hardly reelize it. Aw, you know, that schule is neerly out!

Ole Man '26 he's been perty generus with North Ain't he? Lemme see, there's our futbawl team, baskitbawl, basebawl, and track teems, and Gosh, that Gym teem was sa far ahead o' all thuther schools that would hav took 9 $'s ta send 'um a postcard.

Gee! An that Field Drive went over like a cyclone, takin' awl our breth and money, leavin' us eether totally broke er badly bent!

Tha Females of the institootion wasn't cheated either, they had some mighty fine volleybawl and baskitbawl games. And in there meets with other schools they showed just what they was made of, "sugar an' spice and awl things nice, but oh, how they could wallop!"

Yea, and one of the features on the season's salinder was the Annual Senior production, "Loan Me Five Bucks" and "Cricket on tha Tile". It shure did go over big! Some o' the children in the play shurely will be second Barysmores or Charley Chapmans er some famous creatchur.

To some o' the pupils graduatin' this is a fond farewell to "school" forever, but to others it's meerly "Goodbye" to North and "Hello" to some bigger institution of Larin'.

It's the most harty wish of Percival Oswald that awl the "quituating" Seniors 'ul continue on the "Straight and narry pavement" fer the entire rest o' theyre remaining lives.

FLO'S FANCIFUL FLINGS

When Flo her last sad fancy flings
And turns herself to sterner things,
We hope you'll stop a pace and think
Of all the space she's filled with ink.

'Twas nonsense, yes, of course, we know,
But things you know will happen so,
For altho some at the "serious" are best
There are a few who just must "jest"!

So now as we go thru life
(And it really must be done)
There'll be some who can "grin" at strife
And others who are just "plain glum".

But pay no attention to scowlers;
Think only of those that are glad,
For even on days that are bluest
There is somewhere, some fun to be had.

PASSING FANCY

I watched the face across the street car—such exquisite coloring! Her hair caught whole rays of sunshine and held them in their heavy coils. Her eyes deep-fringed, wide, blue things seemed to smile at me as did her luscious red mouth. I gazed enchanted at the lovely head, until the guy decided to get off the car and took the magazine with him.

"Just a little better than the Best"

A MODERNIZED VERSION

And Moses having received the tablets with the firm injunction to take one after every meal, descended from the mountain. And when he beheld the Israelites dancing the Charleston around the golden calf, he was exceedingly wroth.

"Holy cow," he ejaculated, "dispose of that bovine! Tie that bull outside! Ye shall suffer for this. Go immediately and prepare burnt offerings on the altar. Offer up animals for sacrifice. Ye shall be beaten about the head for this!"

And so, the Israelites accordingly parked their dogs on the hearth and divers of them began to pound their ears.

Next lesson—Moses and the Bull's Rushes.
